"FAMOUS SLEUTH" IS SCORED FROM BENCH BY JUDGE B. H. HILL

Jurist Mentions No Names, but Lets It Be Known W. J. Burns Is Target in His Charge to Grand Jury

RAPS DETECTIVES SEEKING "MONEY AND NOTORIETY"

Jurors Told to Thoroughly Probe Charges of Bribery, Coercion and Perjury Growing Out of Frank Case

The feature of Judge Benjamin H. Hill's charge to the grand jury Monday morning, demanding a thorough probe of bribery and other charges made by both sides in the Frank case, was the denunciation of a certain type of detectives by Judge Hill. While not calling Detective W. J. Burns by name, Judge Hill made it plain that he had this detective in mind when he spoke of "famous sleuths" and declared detectives of this class were seeking "not the truth, but money and notoriety." He characterized these "famous sleuths" as "a menace to justice" and declared the "indignation of the people was justly aroused by their activities."

After the new grand jury had been empaneled in the criminal court room on the fourth floor of the Thrower building, Judge Hill delivered the routine charge and launched into his special charge on the Frank case.

Judge Hill's charge was positive in those parts of it which referred to the charges of perjury against witnesses in the Frank case.

After the formal prelude, Judge Hill said the courts are powerless without the aid of the juries. The judge is merely an umpire, said he, and can do nothing unless the grand jury does its duty by indicting and the petit jury does its duty by convicting guilty persons.

CASE IS REVIEWED.

"I want at this time to direct your attention especially to phases of a case which has been on trial in our courts," he continued. "Last year there was a terrible murder done in this community. A man was indicted, tried, convicted. A motion for a new trial was overruled, and the supreme court, affirmed the judgment of the lower court, saying there had been no error of law and that the verdict was supported by the evidence. Then came an extraordinary motion for a new trial, based on the ground of alleged new evidence.

"Affidavits of a number of the witnesses against the defendant in the trial, in which they swore their testimony at the trial had been false, and that they had been induced to make it by detectives.

"Investigating this, and if it is true, return bills against those officers responsible for inducing this false testimony.

"Later these witnesses recanted, and said they had been induced to repudiate their testimony by bribery, by coercion, by misrepresentation, by detectives employed by the defendant; and some of them even said their affidavits were forgeries.

ORDERS DILIGENT INQUIRY.

"I charge you to inquire diligently into this and find out which was false, and then it will be your duty to return indictments.

"Where you find that a detective on either side is responsible for these witnesses making false testimony, you should indict the detective for subornation of perjury and the witness should be indicted for perjury.

"You have a competent official familiar with the intricate details of the matter, and you can safely follow his guidance. However, I want to charge you especially in regard to an affidavit made by a minister, a man named Slaughter, in the affidavit he claimed to have heard a negro confess to the crime. A moment after he had heard this remarkable conversation, a member of his congregation came up and identified the negro as Jim Conley. Three days after making the affidavit, Ragsdale said it was false and that he had been paid $200 and that Barber, who claimed to have come up and identified Conley, was paid $100. He claimed this money was paid by Arthur Thurman, who lives in this county, and that a detective employed by the defense was present.

"INDICT MAN WHO PAID."

"It is your duty to find out if he was induced by money to make this statement. It is your duty not only to indict him for perjury but to indict also the man who paid him. If you have probable cause to believe that any detective employed by the defendant knew this man was to be paid money or furnished the money which he was paid, he should be indicted.

"Another matter, which I want to speak of specifically is this. A negress named Arnold Maude Jones, a totally disreputable and utterly worthless character, made an affidavit declaring Jim Conley confessed the crime to her. After making this affidavit, the woman was taken away from the jurisdiction of this court and was given a long trip.

"It is your duty to inquire diligently into this matter and find out how much if anything, she was paid to make this affidavit. Of course, if the affidavit was true it was all right, but it is your duty to find out if, in the popular vernacular, it was a frame-up. Then see who engineered, who worked out, this angle of the case.

"It is of the utmost importance in criminal cases and civil cases that the streams of justice should not be polluted by perjury. Perjury is a crime against justice itself. It is even worse than murder, for murder kills only the body, while perjury kills justice itself.

"Those guilty of perjury or subornation of perjury should be indicted and tried, and, if convicted, should be punished severely as they deserve to be.

"As I have said, there is no need for me to go further into detail at this time, for this matter will be placed in your care by one who has mastered ev-

America Suffers Blow When Golfer Is Defeated in England

(By Associated Press.)

SANDWICH, England, May 18.—Jerome D. Travers, amateur golf champion of the United States, was eliminated today in the first round of the contest for the British amateur championship. The chance that an American would take the title across the Atlantic was thereby reduced to a minimum.

Charles A. Palmer, who defeated Travers by 2 up, is the Irish open champion and was the runner-up to John Ball for the championship in 1907. He comes from Handsworth, England. Neither Travers nor Palmer played very good golf today. Traver appeared to almost too much for the speed of the green. Consequently he was short with his approach shots, while his drives were about twenty yards shorter than those of his opponent. Even his putting was poor.

Palmer was suffering from lumbago and his drives lacked their usual energy. The American champion took an early lead but the players were all square at the turn. Travers was again 2 up at the thirteenth hole, but Palmer caught him at the sixteenth and won the last two holes.

Fraser Hale, of Chicago, beat W. Whigham of the Royal St. Georges club by 5 up and 3 to play.

E. Holderness, of Benham, beat Henry J. Topping, of the Greenwich Country club, Connecticut, by 1 up.

S. Chevlek, of Ginsberry, beat Edward S. Knapp, of Westbrook, by 5 and 4 to play.

Charles W. "Chick" Evans, Jr., of Chicago, beat W. Cranston, of Walton Heath, England, by 5 up and to play.

J. Murray, of Romonord, England, beat C. W. Inslee, of the Oneida Community club, New York, by 1 up.

The elimination of Travers was the sensation of the day. It was quickly followed by the defeat of two other Americans, Henry J. Topping and Edward S. Knapp.

The first American to score a win was Fraser Hale, of Chicago, who beat W. Whigham, of the Royal St. Georges club.

A second victory for the American contingent, that of Charles W. Evans, Jr., of Chicago, over W. Cranston, was quickly followed by defeat of C. W. Inslee, of the Oneida Community club, New York, by J. Murray, of England.

Francis Ouimet, the American open champion, won one victory from C. Mc-Gregor, of Manila, champion of the Philippines, by 7 up and 6 to play.

One of the surprises of today's play was the defeat of E. A. Lassen, British amateur champion in 1908, who was among those picked out as possible winners of the title.

Frederick Herreshoff, of New York, defeated H. C. Hutchinson, of Northumberland, by 4 up and 3 to play.

DIRECTOR HARRIS RESIGNS TO RUN FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Will Open His Campaign With Speech at Cedartown Saturday

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—William J. Harris today tendered his resignation as director of the United States census, following the formal announcement yesterday of his candidacy for governors of Georgia. He will leave Washington on Thursday and open his campaign on Saturday at Cedartown, Polk county.

"I expect to pitch my campaign on state issues only," said Mr. Harris today. "I have no idea when my resignation as census director will be accepted. Secretary Williamson Redfield was too busy today to discuss the matter, and I told him that the resignation was effective at his pleasure. I have not discussed my candidacy with President Wilson, as I did not care to involve him in state politics. My administration in Georgia politics."

After his speech at Cedartown Saturday it is said Mr. Harris will go to Rome, where he will spend Saturday afternoon and Sunday, and on Monday will be in Macon in attendance upon the Odd Fellows' convention.

AMERICAN CONSUL DIES IN LONDON ON SUNDAY

Gloom Is Cast in American Colony Following Death of John L. Griffiths

LONDON, May 18.—Gloom has been cast over the American colony in London by the death yesterday of Consul General John L. Griffiths, who succumbed to heart disease.

The British press pays high tribute today to the late consul general's ability and praises his efforts since his arrival here in 1909, on behalf of good relations between the United States and Great Britain.

Mr. Griffiths fell ill while he was in Paris several weeks ago. He returned to London only to be confined to bed again and he was supposed to be on the way to recovery when his death occurred yesterday.

YOUNG ASTOR AND BRIDE TAKE SHORT SEA TRIP

Bridegroom Has Not Fully Recovered Health and Will Not Go Far

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Vincent Astor, much improved in health, according to his friends, has sailed from New York with his bride for a short sea trip. On board his yacht, the Noma, Mr. and Mrs. Astor came to New York from Rhinebeck Saturday, and Sunday the yacht steamed out to sea. The trip, it was said, would not extend further than Chesapeake bay.

To Have New Counsel

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, May 18.—It is reported that M. Labori has decided not to appear as counsel in the defense of Mme. Caillaux at the Assize court, where she is to be tried for the killing of Gaston Calmette, editor of the Figaro, and that M. Caillaux has selected another counsel.

CONTRIBUTIONS FOR FORREST ADAIR FUND NEAR $2,500 MARK

More Subscriptions Received Monday to Swell Total of $2,146.50 Brought Over From Saturday Night

FUND WAS CLOSED AT 1 O'CLOCK THIS P. M.

Nobles of Yaarab Temple Also Plan Banquet and Gift for Man Who Made Shriners' Week a Success

At 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, when the list was due to close on subscriptions to Atlanta's appreciation of Forrest Adair, the mails still were bringing additions to the fund.

At that hour the total of $2,146.50 brought forward from Saturday night had been increased to $2,389.

A large proportion of the entire list had been paid at that hour, and payments were following each other rapidly. The committee requests that the few subscriptions yet unpaid be liquidated at the earliest possible hour Monday afternoon. The plan is to proceed at once with the selection of the gift and its purchase and presentation.

That the nobles of Yaarab temple, all of whom did yeoman service Shrine week, and not many of whom especial credit is due, consider Potentate Adair entitled to all the honor that can be paid him, is manifested in a movement which they have started among themselves to pay a tribute to him with a banquet and a gift. A communication has been addressed to each noble by a committee composed of Frederic J. Paxon, John A. Hynds, W. A. Foster and J. C. Greenfield, inviting subscriptions of $2 for this purpose.

SHOULD SHOW APPRECIATION.

"Atlanta could not have accomplished all that she has done without the magnificent leadership and unselfish devotion of our beloved potentate, Forrest Adair," says the communication. "And it is fitting that Yaarab show appreciation."

The committee has decided to close the Yaarab temple list on Wednesday morning, and have arranged for the banquet on Monday night, May 25.

The earlier closing of the popular fund found friends at work individually and at committee rooms, Monday morning, to pile more into the total.

Numerous letters of appreciation came with subscriptions through the mails, Monday morning.

"ONE BEST FRIEND."

"I am glad to contribute to this worthy tribute that came with $5 from the Druid Hills Dancing club.

"The Druid Hills Dancing club, composed of the children in Druid Hills, are anxious to contribute $5 to the fund for their friend, Mr. Adair," a childish hand-writing set down; "for he sure is our bestest friend."

"I am glad to have the privilege of donating to this worthy fund," wrote Dr. John Powell, sending $2. "Mr. Adair and his friends deserve the hearty congratulations of the good people of Atlanta and the whole south for their wonderful success in conducting the Shriners' show."

"It affords me untold pleasure to contribute to the Forrest Adair fund $10," wrote Willis E. Ragan, sending his check. "Among The Journal's and Forrest long life, peace and plenty!"

"I am gratified to assist in doing honor to one who deserves all that Atlanta can show him," wrote Ed E. Steinheimer, sending his check for $2.

"DESERVES ALL HONOR."

"He richly deserves every honor Atlanta can give," wrote Elijah A. Brown, sending his check for $5.

"Enclosed is $1 from Harrison, who is ill," wrote Mrs. Harrison Jones. "I also am sick, but Mr. Adair is one of the finest and most lovable men I know."

"Enclosed you will find a small contribution," wrote Mrs. T. T. Dickson, sending $1. "My father, the late Isaiah Purse, and Mr. George Adair were in business together for many years and were lifelong friends. It is fitting that of perpetuating the memory of these two good men through the son."

"Shriners' week was one of pleasure and will be remembered for a long time to come," wrote Gustave Haas, sending $1.

"We trust this beautiful incident will illustrate Atlanta's appreciation, and be an incentive for frequent emulation," wrote J. M. Alexander & Co., enclosing $5.

"Your paper has indeed done a most fitting thing in suggesting the gift to Mr. Adair," wrote J. S. Slicer, sending $10. "The city cannot do enough to show its appreciation."

VANDERBILT QUESTION GOES BACK TO ORIGINAL STATUS

Methodist Conference Votes to Reconsider Entire University Matter

(By Associated Press.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 18.—Just before adjournment for the day the general conference of the Methodist episcopal church, south, in session here, voted to reconsider the entire Vanderbilt university question.

The vote upon the question to recommit the report to the committee of fifteen was reached shortly before noon and was almost unanimous.

It instructs the committee of fifteen to follow the spirit of the majority report and the supplementary legislation submitted at today's session by Judge N. E. Harris, of the Georgia conference.

After a service of prayer for the success of the mediators in their work of pacification of Mexico the conference adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow.

CLAIM SUBSTANTIAL RIGHTS.

It developed in the arguments that the signers of the majority report, which was adopted by the conference late Saturday night, had discovered that the church held substantial instead of "negligible" rights in Vanderbilt despite the rulings of the Tennessee supreme court.

This was brought out in a proposed amendment to the report, providing for continuance of relations for the interim between the adjournment of the general conference and the completion of the reconvening of Vanderbilt to the patronizing conferences; giving the board of educations authority to confirm or reject trustees and calling on the commission provided for in the majority report to safeguard the interests of the church.

DISCUSSION REOPENED.

At the end of the devotional service conducted by the Rev. C. F. Sessions, of the West Texas conference, Judge D. H. Linebaugh, chairman of the committee of fifteen on the Vanderbilt case, immediately brought up the reconsideration of the Vanderbilt committee report, which was pending when the conference adjourned late Saturday night.

He asked to be allowed to withdraw his motion to table the motion to reconsider, fearing he had wounded the feeling of some of the members of the conference, and when this was granted proceeded with an argument on the motion to reconsider.

A point of order raised by Dr. James Cannon that a motion to reconsider was not debatable, was not sustained on an appeal from the ruling of the chair.

"DISHONOR TO CHURCH."

Mr. Linebaugh contended the acceptance of the Carnegie gift by the board of trustees of Vanderbilt, over the veto of the bishops, was a violation of their trust, a dishonor to the church and had created an "irreconcilable difference." He declared the legal title of Vanderbilt was in the board of trust, but an equitable title rested in the patronizing conferences and the majority of the committee of fifteen in the spirit of recovery can be exercised only by those conferences.

In reply to a question, Mr. Linebaugh said the general conference, through its board of education, cannot demand that the board of trust return the Carnegie gift, but the patronizing conferences, being owners in equity, have that right.

Rev. W. A. Christian, of Virginia, criticised the majority report for failing to provide for carrying out its trust during the interim between adjournment of the general conference and a meeting of the patronizing conferences. He insisted that if the majority report be adopted Vanderbilt to the church they should agree to a reconsideration of the entire matter.

Several favored the measure squarely and either complete separation at once or the adoption of a compromise measure under which the whole matter can be tested to the fullest extent.

Judge N. E. Harris, of the Georgia conference, insisted the majority report was the most feasible means of secur-

WILL BREAK GROUND FOR OGLETHORPE UNIVERSITY

Building Committee Announces Work to Begin in Week or Ten Days

With the appointment Monday of the building committee of Oglethorpe university, announcement was made that within a week, or ten days will begin the work of grading the lands for the great university to be located near Silver Lake on Peachtree road.

The committee consists of James H. Gray, chairman of the executive committee and president of the board of trustees; John K. Ottley, chairman; Dr. Thomas H. Jacobs, vice chairman; Ivan E. Allen, Frank M. Inman, Captain J. W. English, John A. Brice, Thomas F. Hinman, D. I. MacIntyre, S. P. McBrayney, Frank G. Lake, and Dr. J. Cheston King.

This committee will organize in a few days and call for tentative plans from landscape engineers and architects. Among these it will select permanent plans for the improvement and beautification of the grounds and the construction of the university buildings—plans which will be followed from the start and through the years to come. One of the matters to be decided by the committee will be the style of architecture to be applied in all the buildings.

As soon as the plans have been decided on and the engineers and architects have been selected, permanent work will be started. In the meantime grading will commence.

The payment of first installments on all subscriptions has been asked, and the collections are coming in very satisfactorily. With this money and more yet to be paid, the executive committee is equipped to proceed.

BELIEVE NEGRO WILL LOSE FEDERAL POSITION

Hoke Smith's Conference With President Likely to Result in Ousting of Johnson

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 18.—The days of Henry Lincoln Johnson as recorder of deeds in the District of Columbia are believed to be numbered, as a result of the activities of Senator Hoke Smith. Johnson is an Atlanta negro and was appointed to office by President Taft on the recommendation of Georgia Republicans and former Postmaster General Hitchcock.

Senator Smith saw President Wilson this morning, and urged him to relieve Johnson by the appointment of a white man. The senator was much encouraged by the interview, and entertains a strong hope that within a short time a white man will be nominated to discharge the duties of the office.

For many years the recorder of deeds in the district has been a negro, but Senator Smith today protested that the precedent should have never been established and that the president should relieve the citizens of the national capital of the blight. He has the full support in this contention of a large element of Washington citizenship, and this, it is believed will carry weight with the president in overriding the alleged precedent under which the office has gone regularly to a negro.

ROCKEFELLER INSTITUTE GETS PROFESSOR SMITH

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Dr. Theobald Smith, professor of comparative pathology in the Harvard Medical school, will be the head of the department of Animal Pathology of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research which John D. Rockefeller recently endowed with $1,000,000 and to which James F. Hill has pledged $50,000 for the study of hog cholera. In making this announcement the institution said that the new department would begin active work within the year.

Dr. Smith is one of the world's foremost pathologists and bacteriologists.

Tampa Delegation Delays Signing of Organization Certificate by Failure to Get Notice Meeting Was to Be Held Monday

Owing to the absence of the Tampa delegation of bankers the work of signing certificate of incorporation for the federal reserve bank of Atlanta was delayed Monday.

When the delegates met in the offices of the Atlanta clearing house association room 219 Trust Company of Georgia building, Monday at 11 o'clock a telegram was received from A. C. Clewis, president, and Frank Griffin, cashier of the Exchange National bank of Tampa, Fla., stating they had not received their notice of the meeting until Monday morning, and although they had left immediately for Atlanta they could not reach here until Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock.

Under the rule governing the organization of the federal reserve bank it is necessary for all the delegates to be present at the meeting and sign the certificate of incorporation. Because of this fact no action was taken Monday morning. The delegates present wired M. C. Elliott, secretary of the organization committee at Washington, and asked for information as to how to proceed.

The first telegram was followed by a second, asking instructions how to proceed. Up to 1:30 no reply had been received to these messages and the delegates adjourned to take luncheon at the Capital City club as the guests of the Atlanta Clearing House association.

Should Secretary Elliott's reply authorize the delegates to proceed in the absence of the Tampa representatives they will meet again, during the afternoon and proceed with the work of incorporation.

The certificate of incorporation of the federal reserve bank of Atlanta has been drawn up and awaits the signatures of the duly accredited representatives.

This is the first step toward establishing the regional bank in Atlanta. As soon as this certificate of incorporation reaches the bank organization committee in Washington three directors of the bank will be appointed and the charter will be officially granted.

The estimated capital of the reserve bank will exceed $5,000,000 and shares in it are expected to be taken out by every bank, state and national, in the six states included in the district of which Atlanta will be headquarters—Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana and Tennessee.

The five banks to participate in the petition for incorporation of the regional bank Monday afternoon are from each of these states except Georgia; they were designated for this duty by the organization committee in Washington.

The names of these banks, with their officers, all of whom, with the exception of the Tampa representatives, were present at the meeting on Monday, are: The First National bank, of Montgomery, Ala., A. M. Baldwin, president; A. S. Woolfolk, cashier. National bank, of Tampa, Fla., A. C. Clewis, president; J. A. Griffin, cashier. Hibernia National bank, of New Orleans, La., J. Gannon, president; Charles Palfrey, cashier. First National bank, of Jackson, Miss., J. B. Stirling, president; R. F. Young, cashier. First National bank, of Chattanooga, Tenn., Charles A. Lyerly, president; J. P. Hoskins, cashier.

The procedure by which the regional bank is to be incorporated is similar to that by which a national bank is incorporated.

Five men are required to sign the petition for the incorporation of a national bank and send it to Washington, where the charter, if approved, is then granted; five banks sign the certificate of organization of the regional bank, and it is to these banks that the charter is issued.

There will be nine members on the board of directors of the reserve bank.

THREE ARE APPOINTED.

Three of these are appointed at once by the committee in Washington; to these three the charter of the bank is given, and subscriptions of stock from the state and national banks in the reserve district can be taken at once by these three.

Already 374 banks have applied for

HUERTA AUTHORIZES RESIGNATION SHOULD THAT BE NECESSARY

Dictator Tells His Peace Envoys He Will Get Out If Mediators Deem Such Course Advisable

FORM OF ADMINISTRATION NOW BOTHERS DIPLOMATS

Rebels Must Be Considered in Establishing New Government Until President Can Be Elected

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—General Huerta has authorized the Mexican mediation delegates to submit his resignation, in case such a course is found necessary to a settlement in the peace negotiations. This was stated positively in dispatches today from a thoroughly competent diplomatic course in Mexico City, to one of the foreign representatives here and confirms intimations given by friends of the delegates here yesterday.

According to this information from Mexico City, General Huerta at first authorized the delegates to discuss only the question of the Tampico conflict, leading to the American occupation of Vera Cruz. Later the Mexican dictator, it is explained, came to recognize the necessity of a broader settlement and then conveyed to the delegates assurances that he was prepared to step down should they find that course necessary.

The problem causing chief concern to diplomats in Mexico City now is that of the form of administration to be established during the interregnum before a constitutionally elected president could assume office.

No information concerning the name of a successor to Huerta was contained in the dispatch, this subject being one on which it will be necessary to consult the opinion of constitutionalists and other leaders in Mexico.

Supreme Court Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, who will represent the United States at the peace conference at Niagara Falls, Ontario, today arranged to leave Washington tomorrow morning. This arrangement will put the American delegates at the scene of the conference about the time the Mexican delegates arrive there from New York.

While stage was being set in Niagara Falls for the opening of the Mexican crisis, officials in diplomatic and administration circles continued the extent to which the mediation preliminaries might reach and the bearing the negotiations eventually would have on the hope of settling the Mexican imbroglio. Reported optimism of the Huerta delegates increased chances for mediation and their confidence that their every move would not have been in vain found reflection in the capital.

Members of the Mexican federal mission were in New York today. Minister Urzo, of Argentina, was expected in Niagara Falls, where he was to co-operate in arranging for the beginning of the conference tomorrow. Senor Pedro Da Gama, of Brazil, was in New York whence he was to leave for the conference today. Minister Blanco, of Chile, was to leave here today and members of the American mission were to depart from Washington Falls to reach there Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning about the time the Huerta representatives arrive from New York.

While the rebels were proceeding rapidly with their aggressive program in northern and central Mexico, the day's developments were centered in Washington, and the exchanges of courtesies overshadowed military developments.

HUERTA'S RESIGNATION MUST COME FIRST

The Huerta delegates declined while here to give out any statement, yet an authoritative viewpoint could believed to have been obtained from representative Mexicans with whom they talked. According to this viewpoint it is believed to have privately admitted the real problem confronting them is the question of their country. At the same time, persons in the confidence of Washington assert the question of mediation re-

ANIMAL INDUSTRY MEET AT QUITMAN ON MAY 26

Thousands to Invade South Georgia Town, Where Many Events Will Be Held

South Georgia's largest gathering is announced for May 26 at Quitman, Ga. The Georgia Animal Industry conference, called together by the Georgia chamber of commerce at the request of the Brooks County Industrial club will hold session on that day.

Leading Georgia bank officials numbering 306, the mayors of more than 90 towns, 26 presidents of state commercial organizatins, several big railroad presidents and other railroad officials and a thousand other citizens from all over the state are expected to attend.

Altogether, it is expected that 3,000 people will invade Quitman. All roads are running excursion trains for the occasion and special rates have been made.

The big event of the day is the monster parade, headed by the Quitman military company and comprising the military companies of Fitzgerald and Albany, several bands, prominent citizens in automobiles, floats lastily arranged by merchants and decorated automobiles. School children, the Farmers' union, girls' canning clubs, pig clubs, woman's clubs and delegations from surrounding towns—all will be represented.

Among the speakers of the day are Charles H. Haden, president of the state chamber, and L. W. Branch, of Quitman.

Other features of the day will be a basket dinner of Georgia products, automobile trips to Brooks county hog farms, a baseball game between Quitman and the Perry, Fla., clubs, and moving pictures.

TORONTO COUNCILMEN PRAISE CITY'S PLANTS

Find Atlanta's Sewage Purification All Their Mayor Reported It to Be

The party of Toronto, Canada, city councilmen who inspected Atlanta's sewage purification plants last Saturday found that the mayor of their city, Hon. H. C. Heckon, was not exaggerating when he went back home from Atlanta several weeks ago and reported that the plants are the finest he ever saw, purifying the sewage with a high degree of efficiency and absolutely without offensive odors.

Mayor Hecken's report on the plants was so flattering in every way that the Toronto city council found it difficult to believe sewage purification had reached such a high state of perfection, and determined to come to Atlanta to see for themselves. Accordingly council passed an appropriation to pay the expenses of the entire body on a trip here. The Toronto newspapers severely criticised the appropriation as a "junket," and council repealed it. Then a number of council members announced that they would make the trip at their own expense.

PAWN BROKER FINED FOR OPENING STORE TOO SOON

B. Cohen Forced to Pay $10.75 Because Watch Was Seven Minutes Fast

Because his watch was seven minutes fast Monday morning, B. Cohen, proprietor of the Star Loan office, at 174 Decatur street, had to pay $10.75 into the treasury of the city of Atlanta.

There is a law on the city statute books that prohibits all pawn shops from opening for business until 7 o'clock in the morning.

As Call Officer O. R. Jones leaned out the window at police station Monday morning to get a breath of the balmy May breeze he noticed B. Cohen taking down his shutters across the way. Officer Jones at once took out his watch, shook it, and looked at the hands. It was exactly 6:53 o'clock.

So he stepped over and made a case against Cohen.

In recorder's court Cohen protested that his own watch showed it was 7 o'clock. The judge was in a quandary until Officer Jones declared that his watch was a $10 watch. Cohen admitted that he paid but $1 for his, so the judge decided the higher-priced timepiece was right and fined Cohen.

BIG STIR IS CAUSED BY FIRE NEAR ARAGON HOTEL

Considerable excitement was caused by a blaze on the roof of the one-story buildings from 161 to 169 Peachtree street at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Many calls were turned in by the occupants of the stores in these buildings, and the whole downtown department responded.

The fire was extinguished at once with a chemical stream. It is supposed to have started from sparks from the Aragon hotel chimney.

THEATERS

In "The Escape," which will be presented at the Lyric all this week, Miss Lucille LaVerne and her players are confident they have found a play which will make an impression on Atlanta theatergoers.

"There's room for thought in the new Paul Armstrong play, and yet there's never-ceasing action and eminently dramatic moments to furnish a series of melodramas," said Miss LaVerne, at Monday's rehearsal. "While the play is founded on the much discussed topic of eugenics and shows the effects of environment, it at the same time is so thoroughly interesting for its own sake, so full of human nature, and so exciting in some of its moments that it is, I believe, one of the most really worth while dramas of the past decade. Mr. Armstrong has done his very best work on it."

Miss LaVerne will be seen in the character role of the drunken mother, James A. Marcus, as the father—a role which he created in the original production, by the way—and Miss Marguerite Chaffee will have the leading woman's part—that of the girl who "escapes" from her environment. Matinees will be given Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

"Sealed Orders," a feature war drama that has been widely heralded as approximating absolute perfection in cinematography will have its opening performance at the Grand this afternoon. One New York critic in reviewing the picture during its long run at the New York theater said in part, "It is not an overstatement of the facts to say that 'Sealed Orders' is as nearly flawless, considered from any angle you choose, as any screen production can be." It is a gem, beside which most other big features—even the best—compare as tawdrily as would a tinsel gewgaw beside a diamond of purest water. I can think of only two—perhaps three—of the foremost features now being shown as worthy of being compared to it, and all these draw much of their dramatic effectiveness from the character of the theme which they deal."

A ten piece orchestra will furnish appropriate music while the picture is being shown and the management announces four performances daily at 2, 3:30, 7:30 and 9 o'clock. Popular prices will prevail. In the afternoon all seats are 10 cents and at night the prices are 10 and 15 cents.

Frank Keenan, the eminent American actor, famous because of many triumphs on the legitimate stage and two years of marked success in high grade vaudeville, headlines the bill of vaudeville this week at the Forsyth. Since the announcement that this wonderful character actor would appear at the busy theater there has been a steady and pressing demand for seats, greater than ever recorded at the box office.

Mr. Keenan will present "Vindication," a strong play by Willard Mack. It is a story of the appeal of a southern soldier to the governor of his state for mercy for the son of the soldier convicted of shooting and killing a man who had insulted the memory of General Robert E. Lee. When the two meet it is discovered that one was a colonel in Dixie while the other was a soldier under Grant.

A novelty will be the appearance of George N. Brown, the acknowledged champion heel and toe walker of the world. Using patent walking machines Brown will contest with another famous walker and during the week will be glad to meet any local track athlete and those who are good walkers. Lydell, Rogers and Lydell will present a comedy rural entertainment and John Geiger, the violinist, will make his fiddle talk. Leona Stephens, who has been one of the principals with Eddie Foy, will offer a new idea, and Jim Toney and May Norman promise good entertainment in their sketch of nonsense. The Dalys, a clever duo of skaters, and pictures will complete the bill.

PIMPLES ECZEMA

Itching Humors, Risings, Boils. Smith's Blood Syrup Fine for These Troubles

Hard work, worry and the coming of spring weakens the blood and we have all sorts of itching humors, eczema, risings, boils, offensive pimples, swellings, blood tumors—we feel tired and all played out, we have bad breath, spots flying before the eyes, hands and legs tremble and can't stand exposure to the weather. The moment you feel as above or have aching bones or any blood humors, get a bottle of Smith's Blood and Liver Syrup from any reliable druggist. Take a spoonful in a glass of water after meals and on retiring. Also eat plenty of nourishing food. Soon your blood will become pure and rich, and your skin takes on the rich, red glow of perfect health and your body is changed into a clean, healthy condition. Aches and pains and itching stop. All sores are healed. Smith's Blood and Liver Syrup has been used for generations to purify the blood. It is made from an old Indian formula and is dispensed by most druggists in big half quart bottles for only $1, or will be sent express prepaid by John B. Daniel, 4 Wall st., Atlanta, Ga.—(Advt.)

TOO MUCH SCIENCE IN STUDIES, SAYS MARSHALL

Vice President Declares "Too Little God Almighty" in Present Educational System

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Vice President Marshall's declaration that one of America's ills today "is that there is too much science in the so-called educational system and too little God Almighty," occasioned comment in Washington today. The statement was made at a church gathering here last night.

"There is this thing wrong in many of the churches," said the vice president, "that because church and state are separate and the state makes the schools, the church feels itself absolved from any duty in the direction of education of youth.

"The state is permitted to mold children from the age of six up through the time when they are going through colleges, where many of the professors are agnostics and atheists. But now the church is awakening to the fact that children should be reared in the way of Christian faith from the nursery ward. I believe that there is in this country today a great spiritual awakening and the church is beginning to see that it has turned over entirely too many of its functions to the state."

The vice president also let it be known that some day he would forget all of the other political parties and join the Socialists.

"But," he added, "I shall never do this until it becomes a friend of the church; never while it flaunts on the streets a red banner in the face of faith in God and the marriage service. The Socialism in which I believe and to which I hope some day to adhere is not that which concerns itself with consideration of power but that of spirit."

GRADUATE NURSES HOLD SESSION HERE THIS WEEK

Between 100 and 150 delegates from all over the state will assemble at the Atlanta Woman's club, 17 West Baker street, Wednesday and Thursday for the eighth annual meeting of the Georgia State Association of Graduate Nurses. Main topics of discussion will be hospital service work and graduate special service. Delegates will be given a luncheon at headquarters in the Winecoff hotel Wednesday noon.

BURNED SHIP'S SURVIVORS TAKEN ASHORE BY CUTTER

Give Terrible Details of Sufferings While at Sea in Open Boat 13 Days

(By Associated Press.)

HALIFAX, N. S., May 18.—The United States revenue cutter Seneca, arrived here today with four survivors of the burned steamer, Columbian, picked up from a small boat forty miles south of Sable island yesterday. Twenty-six survivors in small boats previously had been rescued by passing ships. The condition of the men rescued by the Seneca is serious, but it believed they will live. Fifteen were in the craft when they left the Columbian on the morning of May 4. Eleven died of hnuger and exposure and the four emaciated men taken aboard the revenue cutter were almost unconscious.

The men in the life boat had left their ship so hurriedly that there was no opportunity to supplement the lifeboat's usual store of water and biscuit. A single cask of water stowed in the stern was soon exhausted, but fortunately rain fell and the men suffered less from thirst than from hunger. One hundred pounds of hardtack furnished their only food. This was used up the first week.

Day after day the men made desperate efforts to attract the attention of passing shipping. On the first two days three steamers were sighted and for nearly a week the boat remained directly in the path of trans-Atlantic traffic, but none saw it.

With hope of rescue fast vanishing the men lost courage. One week from the day they left the ship the last of the bread crumbs were eaten. On that day one of the fifteen men died. Some of the men drank salt water and one of them became insane and soon afterward died. Chief Officer Teire ordered the bodies thrown overboard.

"I had just got on the Columbian's bridge at midnight May 3, with no signs whatever of fire on board when there came a series of explosions.

"One, I think was a bunker explosion which almost tore the ship in two."

APPROVES OF CLEAN PLAY, NOT LIFE'S DISSIPATIONS

Before a large congregation that filled the Central Presbyterian church Sunday evening, Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden, the pastor, touched on the events of Shrine week, declaring that the wholesomeness of play had been proven by the good natured and well behaved crowds on the streets. He continued, however, by criticising the opening of the places of amusement on Sunday and also the special dispensation allowing near-beer saloons to remain open until 1 a. m. during the entire week.

Dr. Ogden emphasized the importance of play so long as the sport is clean. It was not constituted, he said, by the dissipations of life.

SCHOOLS TO CLOSE FOR SEASON IN SHORT TIME

Commencements and Special Entertainments Scheduled for Many Institutions

There are fourteen more school days for Atlanta school children. Two weeks from next Friday the public schools close and thousands of children are dismissed for three months of summer vacation.

Already commencement is under way in many private institutions—in or near the city. Girls and boys are in the throes of final examinations, one or two schools already have closed, others close this week, and by this time next week school will be over for the year to all intents and purposes.

Beginning this week the college set is confronted with a round of entertainments and commencement exercises that will not be over until Georgia Tech closes on June 10. Dances, concerts, pageants and plays follow one another in rapid succession. Even the blue ribbon on one's diploma is obscured by the social glamor that precedes the getting of it.

Atlanta public schools close this year on Friday, June 5. On that day at 2 o'clock there will be dismissed until next fall the classes of every grammar school, of the Girls' High school, the English-Commercial High school, the Boys' High school and the Technological High school.

TO RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

On Thursday night, June 4, the senior classes of the Boys' High school and the Tech high school receive their diplomas at the Atlanta theater. The graduating exercises of the Girls' High school and the English-Commercial High school will be held jointly at the Atlanta theater on the next night, Friday, the 5th. Tickets for the latter occasion, always a big event in Atlanta, will be placed on sale soon.

Georgia Tech has an early closing this year, Wednesday, June 10. The commencement festivities begin next Saturday evening with the final glee club concert at Cable hall. Commencement dances, promenades and the like follow one another in close succession until the seniors receive their diplomas on the 10th.

The commencement exercises of Agnes Scott college, at Decatur, will be the most impressive in the institution's history. This year marks the centennial of the founding of the college and elaborate preparations have been made to commemorate it.

Invitations have been sent to over 150 college presidents and leading Congress educational activities all over the United States. Many have accepted and more are expected to do so. The heads of all the big southern colleges will attend together with many from three institutions of the west.

TO HOLD CELEBRATION.

The quarto-centennial celebration will take place on the campus at Agnes Scott at 10:30 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, May 26, of commencement week. This will be preceded by a glittering pageant on Monday afternoon. Literary society exercises and concerts by the glee club will also take place that week.

Cox college at College Park, held its commencement exercises last week and is now closed. The Georgia Military academy closes Friday, May 29, with exercises in the college auditorium that evening.

This is commencement week at Washington seminary. The senior class celebration will be given Monday night at the seminary and Tuesday night the graduating exercises will be held at the Atlanta theater.

Woodberry's School for Girls held its exercises last Friday and the graduates will be given their diplomas Monday. Miss Hanna's school ends the term with a play at the Atlanta theater on Wednesday evening, May 27, "The Court of June."

Marist college closes June 5 with appropriate exercises. Peacock-Pieck school closes Friday, May 29, one week earlier.

FEARS HIS SON HAS ENLISTED IN NAVY

Fearing his seventeen-year-old son Addison has run away to enlist in the United States navy for service in Mexican waters, R. E. Farmer, of Lithonia, Ga., Monday morning asked the assistance of city detectives to help him locate the youth who slipped away from his home Sunday morning before the break of day and has not been seen since. Mr. Farmer says the boy, while too young to enlist, is sufficiently large to pass for a more mature age, and fears that he might have done this in order to get in a possible war.

The missing youth weighs 142 pounds, is about five feet six inches tall, dark complexion, hair and eyes. He left home wearing a brown suit and hat.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Suggests Grandmother's Remedy

It's true, the season is here with its sudden changes, and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is not without reason. Too much heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood, and a weak, tired-out feeling.

Sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses was grandmother's remedy but that has long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world-famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your blood rich and pure—puts healthy color in your cheeks.

"N. G. Cliff, of Opelika, Ala., says: "Last spring I was all run-down, no strength, no appetite. I took Vinol and was greatly benefited by its use, as I soon felt strong and well as ever."

We guarantee Vinol to satisfy you and refund your money if it does not.—Elkin Drug Co., Atlanta, Ga.

P. S. For children's Eczema, Saxo Salve is guaranteed truly wonderful.—(Advertisement.)

HARDWICK CONFIDENT IN CAMPAIGN FOR SENATE

Congressman Declares Contest Will Have Plenty of Ginger

While in Atlanta for a few hours Sunday Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick expressed thorough satisfaction with the progress of his campaign for the United States senate, and promised that this contest would be characterized by plenty of ginger before very long.

Mr. Hardwick was en route to Bainbridge, Decatur county, where he spoke Monday. He expressed great optimism over the status of his campaign and declared that it was his purpose to speak to the voters in every section of the state.

Commenting upon the senatorial race in which he is interested, Congressman Hardwick said:

"I am going face to face with the people in my race—and if I can get my opponents to be as frank and as outspoken upon all issues arising as I expect to be, there will be no doubt whatever where we all stand, on all questions raised, before the primary date arrives.

"I promise that there will be plenty of 'ginger' put into this senatorial race, I do not propose that any candidate for the senate shall dodge or sidestep committing himself upon the questions that will arise for consideration in the United States senate after election day."

COMMERCE BUILDING TO FORMALLY OPEN MAY 30

Series of Interesting Events Planned—Governor and Mayor to Give Addresses

Final plans for the opening and house warming of the new Atlanta chamber of commerce building at Auburn avenue and North Pryor street, just completed by the standing entertainment committee indicate a series of delightful events throughout the day, noon and evening of Saturday, May 30.

The building will be opened for the public reception from 3:30 p. m. until 6 p. m. o'clock. At 5 o'clock the ladies reception under the auspices of the Atlanta Federation of Women's clubs will be held. The address of the event will be delivered by Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, and responded to by President Mell R. Wilkinson.

At 8 o'clock will occur the annual meeting of the chamber members, including the directors, executive committee and "house of representatives." Chief among these officers of the Atlanta Federation of Women's clubs will preside and formally receive the building from Chairman Victor H. Kreigshaber, of the building committee. There will also be short addresses by Mayor Woodward and Governor Slaton.

The commercial traveling organizations that are being enrolled as special members of the chamber are to be honor guests on the occasion.

Bankruptcy Petition

Through their attorneys, Moore & Pomeroy, the creditors of Lester Lee, of Covington, Ga., have filed against him a petition in involuntary bankruptcy with Deputy Clerk Fred L. Boers, of the United States court for the northern district of Georgia. After the filing of the suit late Saturday afternoon Judge William T. Newman appointed H. A. Ferris, receiver.

J. C. GREENFIELD GREAT FACTOR IN SHRINE MEET

Deserves Tremendous Praise for His Untiring Work in Taking Care of Visitors

BY WALTER C. TAYLOR.

Accounts of great naval battles seldom carry stories of the bravery of the engineers who, way down below, furnish the motive power for the floating monsters of the deep, but their work is perhaps just as dangerous and certainly just as important as that of any other of the fighting men. When Hobson sunk the Merrimac in an effort to bottle up the Spanish fleet, all the world sang his praises, but nothing was said of the men who stuck to the ship until she was sinking and then had to get out as best they could. All of which goes to show that the world loves the spectacular. The man with gold lace and a flashy uniform attracts attention, but the man who made the lace is passed by without a glance. Thousands have watched an automobile make 120 miles an hour without giving a thought to the man whose brain made this possible by constructing a perfect machine.

NEVER GOT TIRED.

The man who provided for the housing of thousands of visitors during the meeting of the imperial council of shriners last week toiled night and day for weeks before the meeting in order to perfect his plans. He was the engineer that remained below and furnished the motive power. That man was Joseph C. Greenfield, and night and day he was on the job. His office at Masonic temple was the clearing house for thousands of details. He had to know just what each shrine visitor wanted in the way of hotel accommodations and then he had to get it for them. He had to know what each visitor was willing to pay per day and then where to send him when he arrived.

First he filled the hotels and downtown rooming houses. The next step was to list the rooms in private homes. This brought out a world of detail. Many homes were entirely too far away, others were not altogether desirable and some fixed their rates beyond the bounds of reason. Some people had fitted up rooms with cots and were not able to provide beds. Some could furnish breakfast for lodgers, others would not. Every visitor wanted to know just how far from the center of the city he was being sent.

Then each individual had to be told the best and shortest and quickest way to get to the place where lodgings had been engaged for him.

HANDLED ALL CONTRACTS.

Every bill for every item of expense made necessary by the great meeting was sent to his office. Every contract went through his hands. The vast office force that worked for days before the meeting and during the meeting was under his direction. The playing of bands, the clanging of bells, the blowing of horns and the thousand and one noises of the big carnival had no place in his ears. His head was so full of orders and questions that other sounds were crowded out.

Potentate Forrest Adair is enthusiastic in his praise of the work done by Mr. Greenfield. "He is one of the hardest working men I ever saw," says Mr. Adair, "and in speaking of his work too much cannot be said. He was the safety valve of the situation. He is a master hand at such work and I don't know how we could have gotten along without him. He is untiring and level headed. He never loses his temper and will climb out from under a provoking mass of details with a smile and ask for more."

Mr. Greenfield has been given all the honors that can come from Masonry. In addition to being a member of all the Masonic bodies in Atlanta he is a thirty-third degree Scottish Rite Mason, an honor attained only by those of honorable and lasting prominence.

J. A. JONES IS RE-ELECTED GRIFFIN SUPERINTENDENT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

GRIFFIN, Ga., May 18.—The board of education yesterday elected the teachers for the Griffin schools for next year. Prof. J. A. Jones, the superintendent, was re-elected as were all the teachers, the only changes being in principal of the high school, Prof. J. C. Eakes, who is succeeded by Prof. C. B. Mathews, of Savannah, and Miss Emma Wareham, neither of whom were applicants for re-election.

GRIFFIN COUNCIL TO LET PAVING CONTRACT MAY 20

GRIFFIN, Ga., May 18.—The city council on next Wednesday, May 20, will let the contract for laying about 10,000 yards of sidewalk paving, and contractors from several Georgia cities have been in the city recently looking over the situation preparatory to submitting bids for the contract.

FUNERAL OF DR. DOWMAN IS HELD IN OXFORD CHURCH

Many Tributes in Memory of Distinguished Minister Who Died Saturday

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

OXFORD, Ga., May 18.—Beneath a mound of beautiful flowers, expressive of the high esteem and love in which he was held, Dr. Charles Edward Dowman, dean of the theological department of Emory college, who died late Saturday afternoon, was laid to rest in the Oxford cemetery Monday afternoon.

The funeral services were held in the Allen Memorial church and were conducted by Dr. J. W. Quillian, presiding elder of the Oxford district, assisted by Rev. O. L. Kelley, the resident pastor.

The silent tribute to his memory was one of the largest funerals which has ever been held in Oxford, attended by hosts of admirers from a distance, the entire Oxford population and the student body of Emory college.

The active pallbearers were Dr. John F. Bonnell, Prof. M. T. Peed, Prof. H. H. Stone, Dr. R. H. Johnson, Dr. E. K. Turner, Dr. W. F. Melton, all members of the college faculty.

The honorary pallbearers were Prof. G. F. Shingler, Prof. J. R. Peebles, Dr. C. E. Boyd, Dr. W. R. Jones, Prof. Douglas Rumble, Prof. N. A. Goodyear, Prof. J. G. Stipe, Prof. I. E. McClellar, Prof. L. C. Gray, Judge Capers Dickson, Haygood Evans, Judge J. T. Branham, F. M. Means, Dr. Evans, D. T. Stone and the active members of the Epsilon chapter of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, of which Dr. Dowman was a charter member of the Emory chapter, the ministerial association, the student body.

Beautiful floral designs rest on the grave of Dr. Dowman, among which are offerings from the college faculty, the student body, the ministerial association, Phi Kappa Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Nu and Pi Kappa Phi fraternities.

College activities among the student body have been at a standstill since the illness of Dr. Dowman's desperate illness, which became so aggravated Saturday morning. The Emory baseball schedule has been indefinitely postponed, the track meet between Emory and Mercer university to have been held Monday afternoon in Macon has been called off, the freshmen-sophomore debate, which was to have been held Saturday evening, was indefinitely postponed.

Dr. Dowman was former president of Emory and one of the south's most distinguished ministers.

WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS ARE CONSOLIDATED

The College Park Herald and the East Point News, two weekly newspapers well established and with a large circulation in south Fulton county and upper Clayton and Campbell counties, were consolidated Monday and will be published hereafter as the South Fulton News-Herald, appearing each Friday. No issue will be made this week, the inventory of the two properties being now in progress.

The editor of the new publication will be in East Point. Editor M. C. Thompson, of the News, and Rev. Fritz Rauschenberg, editor of the Herald, will be associated in the direction of the new paper's policies. The Herald was established two years ago, and the News has been published for some six years past.

Thieves Like This Auto

For the second time within six months James L. Wright, 371 West Peachtree, reported to the police the loss of his Cadillac touring car. He recovered it from supposed thieves only five months ago; Sunday morning he telephoned the barracks that the car had been taken from in front of his house Saturday night.

EVERYBODY IS WILLING TO RAISE TEACHERS' PAY

Provision in City Charter Is Only Stumbling Block to Early Increase

Both the general council and the board of education are willing and anxious for the increases in salary for associate teachers in the Girls' High school and English Commercial High school, recently passed by council and approved by the mayor, to become effective January 1, 1915, provided this can be done in accordance with the city charter.

A section of the charter provides salaries of city officials and employes must be raised during the year previous to their election. City Attorney Mayson construes this section, in the case of the associate high school teachers, to mean that an increase in their salaries passed up during 1914 cannot become effective until September 1, 1915, because their next election after the present year will be in June, 1915.

On account of the fact that this section frequently works a hardship on deserving officials and employes of the city, council is preparing an amendment which it will ask the next legislature to pass, requiring only that salaries be raised previous to the election of the officials and employes.

ATLANTA EAGLES WILL ATTEND N. C. CONVENTION

The Atlanta lodge of Eagles will send ninety-two delegates to the convention of the Southeastern District Aerie, which begins at Charlotte, N. C., on May 19. The party leaves Monday night, returning Thursday morning.

A barbecue, parade, a competitive drill and a torchlight procession, will be features of the convention.

DR. A. R. HOLDERBY WILL NOT RESIGN PASTORATE

Minister Agrees to Continue His Work at Moore Memorial Church

Following the agreement of the congregation of the Moore Memorial church to accept certain conditions named by Dr. A. R. Holderby, he has reconsidered his resignation and will remain as pastor of the church. The meeting was held after the regular services Sunday morning when a letter from Dr. Holderby, stating his position, was read. The members voted at once to accept his terms.

The board of deacons was instructed to canvass the membership of the church for the purpose of adjusting the finances. Their report will be made to the congregation Sunday, May 31.

BAPTISTS ARE WAGING VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN FOR TREMENDOUS RELIGIOUS AWAKENING IN ATLANTA

AIDING IN REVIVAL.

The group includes prominent ministers and singers who are taking part in the city-wide evangelistic campaign now being held by the Baptists. At the left is Dr. Weston Bruner, director of the meetings; the two at the upper right are Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Schofield, who will lead the singing; and at the lower right is Rev. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport, La.

Fifty Evangelists and Many Singers and Musicians Attend First Central Meeting Monday at First Baptist Church

The religious campaign of the combined Baptist churches of Atlanta, by which it is hoped to effect a sweeping revival of religion in the city, is under way.

The first of the central meetings of the religious workers was held Monday morning at the First Baptist church. The church was crowded with workers and the meeting was notable for the enthusiasm with which they have entered into the campaign.

Sunday afternoon a mass meeting at the Baptist Tabernacle was held at which the evangelists from other cities throughout the south were introduced to the congregations of the combined churches. At this meeting the plans for the week were outlined.

Fifty evangelists, and a number of singers and musicians have arrived in Atlanta and attended the first of the central meetings Monday morning. Delegations from every Baptist church in the city took part in the meetings. A section of the church was reserved for the colored evangelists and religious workers, of which there was a number in attendance.

E. V. Lamb, a noted evangelist from East St. Louis, was the first speaker Monday morning. His subject was the division of personal work, and the subject discussed with particular emphasis was that of Bible study.

SIN NOT TO KNOW BIBLE.

"The first requirement for personal work is a thorough familiarity with the Bible, and an ability to turn to any reference immediately, whenever necessary," said Mr. Lamb.

"It is a sin not to have knowledge of the Bible, and the knowledge of one's fitness for the work necessary to do efficient personal service, and particularly in a campaign of this sort, when every effort must be put forth to save the city."

Rev. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church of Shreveport, was the next speaker. His subject was "Fellowship with God," and he emphasized the necessity for close touch with the Maker at all times.

"If we are to win in this campaign, we must be lashed to the eternal verities of God," said he. "Then we may go anywhere after lost souls, and be confident we will succeed."

The spirit of the meeting Monday morning approached nearer to that of the old-fashioned revivals than anything seen in Atlanta in many years. Old hymns were sung with a fervor and earnestness that marked reversion to the simple religious faith of those of days past. No instrumental music was heard, but the voices of the religious workers filled the church rose in unison like the tones of a vast organ.

Biblical passages were not read, but were recited by the congregation, led by one of the singers of the campaign quartet.

In the intermissions between talks the campaign quartet rendered several selections. Their voices blended in perfect harmony, and the songs which were sung by them were most effectual. The quartet is composed of J. H. Wade, J. E. Reynolds, E. L. Wolestaze and J. F. Schofield.

COUPLE HEARD IN DUET.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Schofield, who have achieved a wide reputation as composers and singers, rendered a duet. They will be heard together throughout the meetings.

The program for Monday night will include special revival meetings at each of the Baptist churches in Atlanta, under the leadership of the various evangelists who have been brought to Atlanta. Tuesday morning another meeting will be held in the First Baptist church.

On Tuesday also the first of the factory and shop meetings which will be a feature of the campaign, will begin. A number of meetings will be held at the various shops, under the direction of evangelists, who will be assisted by one of the pastors of the city.

The theater meetings will begin Wednesday at noon at the Bijou theater. It is expected that as the campaign progresses other theaters will be designated as meeting places.

The Baptists have plunged into the heat of the battle which they are waging here. They are confident of success and are making every effort to make the meetings bring about the most sweeping and lasting religious awakening that has been seen in Atlanta.

BAPTISTS PROTEST AGAINST RECOGNITION OF CATHOLICS

Oppose Papal Representative Attending Official Functions at Capitol

(By Associated Press.)

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 18.—At its final session today the Southern Baptist convention adopted resolutions protesting against a representative of the vatican being at the American seat of government. The resolutions set forth that 2,500,000 southern Baptists viewed with alarm the disposition of governmental representatives to give sanction to the Catholic church by attending their services and official functions.

The first business of the morning session was the report of a committee recommending the employment of a statistician.

The convention fixed the amount to be raised for missions for next year at $1,119,500. Of this sum $658,000 is to be raised for foreign missions and $461,250 for home missions. Georgia Baptists will be asked to raise $90,000 for foreign missions and $60,000 for home missions.

Dr. E. C. Dargan, of Macon, was appointed to bear the fraternal greetings of this body to the Northern Baptist convention, which meets next month in Boston.

MONOPLANE CAPSIZES AND KILLS GERMAN OFFICER

Lieutenant Rohde, Flying as Passenger in Prince Henry Competition, Meets Death

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, Germany, May 18.—Another fatal accident occurred today in connection with the Prince Henry aviation competition which started yesterday at Darmstadt.

Lieutenant Rohde, who was flying as a passenger with Lieutenant Kolbe, was killed when the monoplane was capsized by gusty winds. Lieutenant Kolbe escaped with slight injuries.

HOSPITAL CASE BRIGHTS DISEASE

Place—Hospital in Pueblo, Colo.

Case—Chronic Bright's Disease of fifteen years' development.

Prognosis—Recovery impossible and patient (a Mr. Gaden) was so advised and that he could remain or go home. He was taken home.

On arrival at Center, Colo., could not sit up alone in bed. A local physician was called. He, too, said he could not recover and prescribed for his heart.

It did not look like the patient could live a week when Fulton's Renal Compound was taken to him.

In ten days patient was sitting up, he made a slow but steady recovery. Weighed 199 pounds at last advices.

The ability of Fulton's Renal Compound to oppose Renal degeneration and reduce albumen in many cases of Bright's Disease is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS, and we will mail formula for albumen test that will show the percentage from week to week. As the albumen declines improvement commonly follows, recoveries having been reported in thousands of cases. Formula and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco. Edmondson Drug Co., 11 N. Broad St. and 106 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga., is local agent. Ask for pamphlet.—(Advt.)

Sustains Application To Dismiss Suit in Hymn Book Case

Before leaving for Rome, Ga., Saturday afternoon, where he goes to hold court this week, Judge William T. Newman, of the United States court for the northern district of Georgia, signed a decree sustaining the application of J. S. James to dismiss the suit of W. M. Cooper against him, charging a copyright infringement on "The Sacred Harp," a hymn book, published a number of years ago by the latter.

The case, which was one of the most unique ever argued before Judge Newman, involved the use of the "altos" in a song book issued by the defendant. The plaintiff contended that the arrangement of altos in "The Sacred Harp" as prepared by himself, had been used in James' song book and asked that he be enjoined from further sale of the book. After reviewing the case for some time, Judge Newman decided that the altos, performing a like mission in the arrangement of music as bass, soprano and tenor, had not been infringed upon by the defendant.

For the Public's Safety.

The Public Safety Committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has earned high commendation for its earnest and successful work. Its educational campaigns alone have resulted in substantial good, and its efforts to secure legislation needed for the adequate protection of life are bound to succeed.

Several seasons ago the Public Safety Committee conceived the idea of reducing to a minimum the number of street accidents to children. Very wisely, it directed an appeal to the children themselves, urging them to have particular care in respect to electric wires, trolley cars, automobiles and all kinds of vehicles. The co-operation of parents and teachers also was enlisted, with the result that Atlanta's record of accidents to children has been greatly lowered.

The committee has given special thought to the subject of firearms and concealed weapons, and is now planning effective reforms upon this line.

Particularly interesting is its present effort to discourage trespassing upon railroad tracks, a practice that is responsible for thousands of deaths each year.

In this, as in its other undertakings, the committee relies largely on educational methods. It believes, and rightly so, that when the public is duly informed and awakened concerning any problem, the public will demand and generally secure a solution.

The committee's work is thoughtful and steady, never hysterical or spasmodic. It knows its ground thoroughly before it acts. It has a remedy in mind before it attacks an evil.

Because of this intelligent, workmanly spirit, the committee's appeals have enlisted hearty response throughout the state as well as in Atlanta. Indeed, its plans contemplate service to all Georgia, and it merits the entire public's co-operation.

Once more we can get back to keeping tab on batting averages.

Both our ex-presidents seem to be inclined to act as advisors for the republic.

A Definition.

"A comminuted meat from cattle or swine, or a mixture of such meats, either fresh, salted, pickled or smoked, with or without added salt or spices, and with or without the addition of edible animal fats, blood and sugar."

There you have a definition contrived by eminent authorities, after weeks of research and cudgelling of brains. But can you guess what it defines? Would you imagine that it was given in answer to a simple question concerning one of the homeliest dishes that ever steams upon the breakfast table? Would you suspect that the learned authorities are speaking of sausage?

Somebody, one of those meddlesome-minded persons no doubt who delight in speculating upon why the sky is blue instead of green or why ears have lobes instead of coming abruptly to an end, arose and solemnly inquired, "What is a sausage?" Most of us would have answered, "Why, a sausage—er, why any dunderhead knows what a sausage is; a sausage is just a sausage."

But scientists are not permitted the easy-going, slap-and-dash manner of thinking and talking which the rank and file enjoy. Scientists must track truth to the center, if tracked it can be, and must grapple whys and wherefores before they master conclusions. And this inquisitive body propounded his question to the scientists.

Thereupon, they fell to pondering and delving into the abysmal depths of sausage. Their task, we fancy, was no less inspiring than difficult. For centuries the world had gone on eating sausage without demanding a definition, and so it might have continued centuries more, had not this bold Childe Harold sounded his trumpet blast at the Dark Tower of doubt. Once asked, however, the question became as important as any of the unsettled problems in the nebular hypothesis; and the savants rallied lustily to the riddle.

From the standpoint of philosophy, their definition is admirable, in that it phrases a simple subject in terms which are hopelessly complex to the ordinary mind.

Atlanta having distinguished herself entertaining the Shriners will now proceed to win the baseball pennant.

If Colonel Roosevelt starts an Ananias club thus early after his return, what will the membership not grow to in the thick of the campaign.

Some Mexican "Ifs."

The overshadowing fact in the Mexican situation as it stands today is the swift and steady advance of the Constitutionalist forces. Their capture of Tampico, the greatest of their many victories, gives them unchallenged sway, from coast to coast, of more than half the country. They hold a rich, broad territory, capable of yielding large revenues; they possess an important Gulf port, which gives them commerce with the outer world; their way to the City of Mexico is opening; the news of their prowess and rising fortune is filtering into every corner of the land. If the Mexican problem can be settled by the Mexicans themselves, it will be through the Constitutionalists.

That is an important "if." It may be that Villa and Carranza will break company, or that some other circumstance will undermine the Constitutionalists' unity. It is possible they may pick a quarrel with the United States, or when established at the capital prove themselves unworthy of power and incapable of government. The future is beset with troublous uncertainties, and just what it may bring forth, no one can safely prophecy.

It is to be hoped, however that Mexico will work out its own salvation, with the peaceful assistance of the United States, and that it will not be necessary for our government to shoulder a more burdensome task. In the light of present conditions, may not this hope be reasonably entertained?

Certain it is that events are fast bringing to pass the primary object of President Wilson's policy, that is the elimination of Huerta. If it be asked, what will follow when the dictator goes, it can be asked more properly, what chance has Mexico of free and efficient government until he does go? No responsible government can be built upon treachery, assassination and murderous greed—and those are basic elements of Huerta's regime. Red-handed and unscrupulous in the outset, he has proved himself, as the months of his usurpation went by, fatally incompetent and weak. There is something admirable in a strong tyrant. Whatever the wrongs of old Porfirio Diaz may have been, he was at least a ruler who did his stern task well; he won his power in open fight, lived up to the demands of his situation, and had the intelligence to retire when he saw that his day was at an end. But Huerta has shown merely the brutal side of tyranny. Aside from a certain animal cunning, he has been enormously stupid and besotted. The world could never hope for order and security in Mexico while this charlatan remained.

The administration was sure of its ground when it refused to recognize Huerta. It knew that such recognition would only prolong the Mexican problem and weaken the influence of the United States in bringing about permanent peace. The fact, then, that the dictator is on the brink of his fall and that it is simply a question of a few weeks, if not days, when he will be out of the way, is a matter for hearty satisfaction. To this extent at least, the policy of our government is sure of vindication.

We could have no diplomatic dealing with Huerta, but in time we can deal freely and, perhaps, satisfactorily with the Constitutionalists. With them, our relationships thus far have been amicable. They know that the avowed purpose of their cause has had the moral sympathy of the United States and that if they prove true to their professions, if they measure up to the responsibility which power imposes, they will receive our cordial support in the great labor of upbuilding their country's broken fortunes.

Will the Constitutionalists meet these demands? Will they counsel together in peace as they have fought together in war? Will they be patriotic and wise enough to turn Mexico forward to paths of freedom and civilization, or will they fall and compel the United States to take up their task? These are the questions that loom biggest in the future. Huerta is practically done for; he is no longer a serious factor in the problem. Further developments depend mainly on the Constitutionalists. What they do will very largely determine what the United States must do. It is to be hoped that they will use their opportunity well.

There are enough war correspondents in Mexico to keep the war going.

One thing at least the Shriners did. They showed that this town enjoys wholesome amusement.

Editorials in Brief

Thucydides quotes the great statesman Pericles as expressing his public policy regarding the city of Athens in an address to the Athenians, in which he said:

> And we have not forgotten to provide for our weary spirits many relaxations from toil; we have regular games and sacrifices throughout the year; at home the style of our life is refined; and the delight which we daily feel in all these things helps to banish melancholy.

Amusements and the refinements of home life—these are still worthy ideals for the statesmen of the present day to bear in mind.

A special cable dispatch to the Herald from Berlin disposes of the suggestion that Germany may be endeavoring to take advantage of the Mexican situation to obtain preferential rights in Latin America. The only desire of the Berlin government is that Germany's extensive commercial interests be considered and if an international committee is formed to regulate financial and customs affairs of Hayti that Germany should have a representative on such committee. In view of the large interests of Germans in Hayti this desire cannot be regarded unnatural or unreasonable.

The attitude of the German government toward the United States is clearly presented by our Berlin correspondent in these words:

> "I am especially requested to state through the Herald that Germany has but one idea—that is, to remain on the most friendly footing with the American government—and that it would certainly not use the present moment to make difficulties for the United States."

LOGIC

BY DR. FRANK CRANE.

(Copyright, 1914, by Frank Crane.)

A wonderful instrument is the human brain. Great is reason! Wonderful are the invincible processes of logic!

A suffragette named Mrs. Wood hacked to slashes a painting by Sargent of Henry James. It was in the gallery of the Royal Academy. She made the following statement:

"I want to say to the public, 'You shall not live in safety or peace until women have the vote.' I have said it through destroying this picture."

Come. Let us all adopt this line of argument.

Then will the single taxer say, "I will dynamite an office building every Friday until you see the cogency of my cause."

Sweet Marie, the anarchistic agitator, might say, "Look for a dead millionaire once a week. I want to say to the American people that the poor ought to have more to eat. I shall say that through murdering Rockefellers and Carnegies."

The Socialist will have a grand scheme. I shall prove it by throwing bricks through drug store windows."

Doc Pease would say, "Smoking of tobacco should be stopped. To prove this I will catch all the children I see on the street and slap their wrists."

The schoolboy would say, "I don't like our teacher. To secure a better one I will whittle my desk with my knife."

The cook will say, "I ought to have a dollar more a week. Until I get it I will dope the tea and put gravel in the omelette."

The lover will say, "Until my Sophronisba loves me I will go out and run straws into the cow's eye."

Little Johnny will say, "I don't like to bring in the wood, and until my mother ceases to make me work and until she lets me play all the time I will chop the piano with my little hatchet."

Caillaux will say, "I have the difference of opinion with M. Ferdinand d'Allens. Allons! We will shoot pistols." And Mme. Caillaux, "Monsieur Calmette has ceased to amuse me. I will perforate him with a repeater."

Ulster, Mexico, Colorado will say, "The minority is unsatisfied. Go to now. We will raise the devil."

Upton Sinclair, "I object to a great many things. I will wear crape on my arm, write poetry, and otherwise agitate the public until I am appeased."

Verily, of all possible governments, Government by Nuisance is grand-and-noblest.

Everybody will say, "I want my own way. I know I am right. I admit it. And until I am given my own way and until everybody acknowledges that I am it, I will make an intolerable nuisance of myself."

The beauty of this kind of logic is that there is only one way to answer it. And that is by spanking. And, unfortunately, the traditions of civilization render it unpopular to administer the needed spanking to crazy militant ladies.

THE SEARCHLIGHT

Teaching Bullards by Electricity.

School authorities in Stockholm, Sweden, have been experimenting with apparent success on the effect of electricity on the minds of pupils. A similar experiment has been started in New York under the name of "the Electrified Schoolroom to Brighten Dull Pupils."

The Stockholm method was to take two lots of fifty school children each, averaging the same age and physical condition, and to put them in rooms exactly alike, to all appearances. One room, however, had insulated wires cleverly concealed in its walls. Not even the teacher knew what had been done. The atmosphere of that room was impregnated with delicate electrical waves every day for six months. The results were as follows:

"The children in the magnetised room increased in stature two and one-half inches; those in the unmagnetised room increased but one and one-fourth inches. The former also grew heavier than the latter.

"Those exposed to the electrical rays averaged 92 per cent in their school work; those in the other room averaged but 72 per cent. Fifteen pupils in the electrified room were marked 100 per cent.

"The electrified children behaved generally more active and much less subject to fatigue.

Profit Sharing in Michigan.

A profit-sharing plan that has made money from the very beginning, both for employers and employes, is now in its third year at a Grand Rapids factory.

The plan was started in 1911, applying only to one department for experimental purposes. The girls in that department were given to understand that they were to have all increased earnings, and that the pay for piece work would not be cut, no matter how much they made. The output was to be increased by 50 per cent, and a jump in wages from $7.50 to $12 and $15 for skilled workers, and not less than $10 per week for the less proficient ones.

On Christmas eve, 1912, the employes of the entire factory were admitted into an arrangement whereby, at the end of the year, all those who had been with the concern one year or less would receive in cash 5 per cent of what had been paid them during the year; those of two years' service, 6 per cent; three years, 7 per cent; every succeeding year, an additional 1 per cent, until 10 per cent should be reached. The entire force was then put on a nine-hour day basis, with Saturday half-holidays.

Last Christmas there was a surplus of $2,000 to distribute. Everybody was satisfied, and the management found that it, too, had made some extra money. The cost of manufacturing one article was cut 9 per cent, and another that had cost 20 cents to make was turned out for 11 cents. The average gain to the workers was 19 per cent, and the direct gain to the company was nearly 9 per cent.

Quips and Quiddities

In a discussion of the number of automobile accidents due to careless or incompetent driving, Henry Ford said the other day in Detroit:

"These accidents do automobiling harm. They make people talk like Cornelius Husk.

"Cornelius Husk's little grandson said to him one day, pointing to the horn of an automobile that had halted for repairs:

"'What's that there thing for, grandpop?'

"'That, sonny,' old Corn Husk answered, 'that is the thing they toot afore they run ye down.'"

The class had seemed exceptionally bright and intelligent that afternoon, and in consequence there was a look of smug satisfaction on the teacher's face.

"Now, James," she asked, "do you really understand the meaning of instinct?"

"Yes'm," replied James.

"Then name one bird that is now extinct."

James hesitated a moment, then:

"Chipper," he exclaimed.

"Chipper?" inquired the teacher. "And what kind of bird is that?"

"My pet pigeon," came the reply. "The cat caught him this morning!"

A farmer in the country last autumn gave a job to a seedy looking individual who had applied to him, and who had assured him that he never got tired. When the employer went to the field where he had put the tramp to work he found the latter lolling on his back under a tree.

"What does this mean?" he asked the employe. "I thought you were a man who never got tired."

"I don't," calmly responded the tramp. "This doesn't tire me."

A man very much out of breath ran into the railway station and made a wild rush for the ticket seller's window. A few moments later he came back and sat down with an air of dejection.

"So you missed your train," remarked his neighbor. "I suppose there was a woman at the ticket window hunting for her pocketbook!"

"Worse than that," replied the disappointed one. "There was a fat man trying to get through the turnstile."—Lippincott's.

The Conning Tower

BY FRANKLIN P. ADAMS.

THE DIARY OF OUR OWN SAMUEL PEPYS.

May 12.—Early awake, and disgruntled to find it a dark morning, and cold. All the publick prints filled with accounts of the trial of Becker, and yet I do find that few I meet are talking about it. But the story is that the courtroom was overcrowded this afternoon, which seemeth to me the greatest folly. Why should any be let enter any, since that do have real business there? To, the tennis-court and played four setts with Sam'l Adams, and lost them all, yet I did not play badly neither. He hath too great a skill, and a fine driving service. Thence to the office and so much to do there that I did not leave until midnight.

13.—Mistress Edith Whiffen to breakfast, having stopped with us the night. We did play some airs together, I upon my harmonicka and she upon the pianoforte, which she doth with great virtuosity. To the city then, and played four games of kelly pool, and won them all, and some silver with them. Thence to the ball-park, but found upon arrival there that there was to be no game played, owing, they said, to the cold and the wet field. Which seemeth was absurd, for, whilst the day was unpleasant, yet were there many to see the game, which I feel sure could have been played. Eftsoons the publick, overleal too long, will lose their faith in the management of the baseball clubs, who will wonder what is the matter. To the office then for a bit, but could get nowght written, so with Edith and my wife to dinner at a public hall, and a fair dinner too, and then to see Ethel Barrymore and her uncle do "A Scrap of Paper," and I to the office and finished my stint. My wife tells me she intends to purchase a cat, which I am sorry for, as I dislike cats in my house, and I'm scoth, everywhere, being untrustworthy beasts and stupid.

THE TRUTH AND POETRY ABOUT NEW CANAAN.

(From the Stratford (Conn.) Times.)

And in many towns I've been;
I have seen the fine grand buildings,
And have talked with many men.

Of all the towns I have wandered to
I cannot tell the best;
But I will speak of some I've seen
And you can think of the rest.

There is Greenwich at the County's end—
A fine old town you will agree;
Elegant estates and country mansions,
But costs a lot to dwell there you see.

Stamford is a fine little city
Made famous by lock name of Yale.
Attorney Cummings and Galen A. Carter
And Chief Brennan who takes men to jail.

A little to the east of that city
Is a town they call Darien
Much wealth is concealed in its borders,
But it hasn't grown ever since goodness knows when.

The endings by columnists made
Were not attained by sudden flight;
But they, with their companions played,
Were toiling downward in the night.

Where "Robert Louis" Rests

How many of the lovers of Robert Louis Stevenson—the modern who was an ancient, the ancient who was a modern, the contemporary who became a classic because he translated new things into thoughts for all time—how many of those millions who have fallen under the spell some of that it has been twenty years since he died? How many know that nineteen years ago this week the bronze tablet was erected over his tomb in a far-away South sea isle for endless generations to read and wonder at?

It was twenty years ago next December that Stevenson died at Vailima, near Apia, on the Island of Upolu, in the Samoan group. Since then he has slept in a distant grave, not in a neglected one, for the dusky natives of that island keep his tomb on the lonely mountainside fragrant with flowers. "The Tomb of Tusitala," they call it—that was the great Scot's Samoan name.

Stevenson went to live in Samoa in 1857. He was a cosmopolitan Scotsman, but he had seen the vanities of the world and, captivated by the climate, the scenery and the kindly character of the natives, he at once determined to live out whatever space of life might remain to him on the fortunate island. And there he did live for seven years. Long ere he died he wrote his own epitaph, and the epitaph is graved on the brass tablet that was put there nineteen years ago this week:

Under a wide and starry sky,
Dig me a grave and let me lie;
Glad did I live, and gladly die—
And I laid me down with a will.
This be the verse that you grave for me—
"Here is where he wished to be;
Home is the sailor, home from the sea,
And the hunter is home from the hill!"

Could there be a better epitaph for Robert Louis Stevenson? It is carved on lasting bronze, but, like Horace, he raised himself a monument even more enduring than bronze. The natives who keep his grave fragrant will all die, some day, and their descendants will be benevolently assimilated. But all the children who speak the English tongue will pluck perennial flowers from the Child's Garden of Verses for, that tomb; and all the boys will know Upolu as the real Treasure Island.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE BRITISH CRISIS

VII.—THE INDUSTRIAL UNREST.

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

LONDON.—Reluctantly, no doubt, but because there was no alternative, the British government has officially recognized the fact that the army crisis precipitated by the Ulster incident has measurably and alarmingly increased the danger of a general labor war in the British Isles.

* * *

When the annual army bill came before the house of commons the Labor members offered various amendments concerning the use of the army in quelling labor disturbances. These provided that troops might not be used at all except on the request of three local magistrates; that when they were used they must not be armed with high-power rifles, and that they must not use firearms at all unless the mob, or the strikers, against whom they were sent, were similarly armed. These amendments were not voted on because, after an anxious search of more than two hours, while the debate raged, a precedent was found that enabled the speaker to declare the amendments were not in order. During the debate Mr. Asquith recalled that Mr. Keir Hardie, of the Labor benches, had several years ago referred to him as an "assassin" because Mr. Asquith had used troops against strikers when he was home secretary. Mr. Hardie interrupted to say mildly that he had not changed his opinion.

* * *

After that debate, which trenched perilously near an open break on the part of the Labor members, Mr. Asquith promised on the part of the government that a committee would be named at once to go into the whole question of the use of the army in labor disputes, with a view to framing new legislation on the subject.

* * *

The request could not be absolutely denied. The circumstances now prevailing would cause a general strike to take on the character of a general revolution, and the government recognized that fact.

* * *

Here are the facts, as they are seen from this angle: The faction in Ulster opposed to Home Rule has organized and armed a body of more than 100,000 men who intend with force of arms to resist the enforcement of a law that has already passed the house of commons twice, has been supported in two general elections by the mandate of the voters of the nation, and which will become a law as soon as the commons have passed it again, as they will do in spite of the opposition of the House of Lords.

* * *

In this preparation for armed resistance, the Ulster volunteers have the wholehearted support of the opposition party in the commons, of the overwhelming majority in the house of lords, and of several hundred thousands of Englishmen who have signed the British covenant.

* * *

When the government, which had tolerated the organization of this partisan army, sought to take steps to protect army stores in Ulster from possible seizure by the Ulster volunteers, the army officers refused to serve, and announced that they would suffer dismissal from the army before they would take active service in Ulster.

* * *

This refusal to serve was applauded by the opposition party leaders in both houses of parliament, the very men who will be the great leaders of state should the Conservatives win the next election.

* * *

Questions were asked them. They were asked if the army officers would be justified in refusing to serve against the people of the South Ireland if they rebelled for home rule, as the Ulsterites are now threatening rebellion against it. They did not answer. They were asked, as was stated in Yesterday's issue, if the army would be justified in not obeying orders to put down a labor riot, on the ground of conscientious scruples. They did not answer.

* * *

During the last forty years the army has been used time and time again to suppress political riots in Dublin and other Irish communities. During the last twelve years the army has been used sixteen times to suppress labor riots. In one case it was used in Manchester when the local authorities had not requested it, which gave rise to a dispute very similar to that which arose out of President Cleveland's sending troops into Illinois in 1892 when Governor Altgeld had not requisitioned him to do so. In none of these cases did either officer or private disobey orders.

* * *

That such orders should be disobeyed is a doctrine first advanced by some labor leaders. Tom Mann delivered public speeches pleading with the private soldiers not to shoot at strikers because they were all poor men in the same boat. He was sent to jail for six months. An engine driver a few weeks ago distributed leaflets advancing the same doctrine. He was dismissed from the service of the railway on that account, but a demand has been made in parliament for his reinstatement.

The present situation is not entirely new. Sir Edward Carson early in the summer of last year at Craigavon made a speech in which he said "The army is with us," meaning that it was with the Ulstermen in their determination not to accept home rule. Last fall Lord Lansdowne, the leader of the Conservative party in the lords, made a speech in which he intimated that it would be the duty of the army to refuse to enforce the home rule bill.

* * *

Now, with this all in mind, let us turn to the situation of industrial unrest. There were more strikes in England last year than in any two previous years in her history. The labor unions have become more strongly organized, have increased in many new industries in their list. Their strikes thus far have not been very effectual in increasing wages, which is the chief reason for all the strikes.

* * *

So it is suggested, on the floor of parliament and with all seriousness, that the Railway Men's union, for instance, of 250,000 men organize an armed corps for the protection of their interests against possible acts of parliament, and that this corps be drilled and equipped as an army. It might be joined by similar corps from the miners, and the dock laborers, both of which unions have just formed an alliance with the railway men's union.

* * *

Would the government permit such an armed and drilled body of independent industrial soldiers to be raised? And if not, would it be left to the individual consciences of army men, officers and privates, whether they would obey orders in putting down the movement? These are the questions that the labor men are asking, and they are not asked in jest.

* * *

The theory now advanced is that the Ulster volunteers, while threatening force against the government, are to be secure in all circumstances against the use of force on them.

* * *

It may be argued that there is a difference between the resistance of the Ulster Unionists, and the resistance of the Labor Unionists, but the working class takes the view that an army which cannot be used against powerful insurgents who have the patronage of the Conservative party ought not to be used on the side of capital against labor. The officers and men may pick and choose what orders they shall obey," said one eminent statesman, "they must not pick and choose on the side of one party or one class. Here we are on dangerous ground, where safety for the community can be found only by the complete neutralization of the army between parties and classes, and a serious belief in the public mind that it is free from politics."

There being no such belief at this time, labor leaders are boldly declaring almost every day in speeches in parliament that there is a law for the poor and another for the rich in Britain, that the rich and the powerful may defy law and create disorder with immunity, but that the poor may expect only the severest punishment when doing things that seem to be quite within their rights. This is not written as being the actual truth—it is written as being what the labor leaders assert to be the truth. Under the present circumstances it is an assertion that is full of the potentialities of trouble.

CITY MAY KEEP STAR LIGHT AT FIVE POINTS

Mayor Woodward Favors Buying and Making It Permanent Feature of Lighting

As the result of a suggestion advanced by Mayor Woodward, the huge electric star suspended above Five Points for the Shrine convention may be taken over by the city and installed as a permanent feature of the street lighting system.

Mayor Woodward has discussed the proposition with a number of people, including city officials, and they are all in favor of it.

"Five Points is the center of Atlanta," said the mayor, "so considered because it is the place where traffic centers and where five of the main streets come together. The star has five points, which make it a suitable lighting scheme for this particular location. I think if the star were permanently installed, it would be a delight to our own people and a very attractive feature for visitors."

The mayor will probably request the city electrician, R. C. Turner, to devise a plan of permanently installing the star and make estimates of the cost of same, together with the cost of current for operating it every night.

The next step would then be to negotiate for the purchase of the star from Yaaub Temple, which installed it as a part of the special lighting scheme in honor of the great gathering of Shriners in Atlanta last week.

EXPECT KEEN CONTESTS AT PRIMARIES IN PA.

Bitterest Contest for Nomination of Governor on Democratic Ticket

(By Associated Press.)

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—Final plans for the primary election tomorrow are being made by the candidates in the various parties. In spite of the vigorous campaign which has been waged for nearly two months, however, there is a marked apathy on the part of the voters.

The bitterest contest is within the Democratic party for the gubernatorial nomination between Vance C. McCormick, former mayor of Harrisburg, and Michael J. Ryan, city solicitor of Philadelphia. The "reorganization" Democrats, under the leadership of Representative Palmer, have the indorsement of the national administration.

In the Republican party United States Senator Penrose is a candidate to succeed himself and is being opposed by J. Benjamin Dimmick, of Scranton. Martin G. Brumbaugh for governor appears sure of the nomination.

William Draper Lewis, dean of the University of Pennsylvania Law school, and Gifford Pinchot, the candidates on the Washington party ticket for governor and United States senator, respectively, are being supported by the leaders of the Progressives.

MRS. JOHN W. HAMILTON DIES AT DACULA HOME

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., May 18.—Mrs. John W. Hamilton, aged sixty-two years, died at her home at Dacula Sunday morning, after a short illness.

She is survived by her husband, two sons, one daughter, Andrew J., of Birmingham, Ala., and Mont T. Hamilton, of Dacula.; Mrs. Alonzo Wood, of Lawrenville.

Funeral and Interment were at Hebron church Monday.

FAIR WEATHER MONDAY NIGHT AND TUESDAY

Although rain is badly needed to make things grow, the weather man holds out no encouragement. He resolutely predicts fair weather for Monday night and Tuesday, and says that at present there are no indications of approaching showers.

He says that the temperature will begin to rise a little Tuesday and in all probability the slight coolness which has been noticed during the last several days will vanish.

BLACKFEET BRAVES VISIT SEMINOLE CHIEF'S GRAVE

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 18.—Twelve Blackfeet Indians, including Chief Medicine Owl, today visited the grave of Osceola, the famous Seminole chief, at Fort Moultrie here. They later departed for Richmond, Va. The Indians attended the recent meeting of the Mystic Shrine in Atlanta.

Woman in Parachute Drops 2,500 Feet to Prove It Will Work

(By Associated Press.)

NEVERS, France, May 18.—To show her confidence in an automatic detachable parachute invented by her husband, Mme. Cayat de Castella dropped 2,500 feet from an aeroplane yesterday. She landed gently in the grass of the aerodrome.

SAVANNAH WATCHMAN ROBBED AND MURDERED

Body of Peter F. Dewberry Found Monday After Long Search

(By Associated Press.)

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 18.—Peter F. Dewberry, night watchman for the American Agricultural Chemical company, was murdered here Saturday night while making his rounds. A search was started for him Sunday. This morning his body was found. It had been concealed under a platform of one of the warehouses.

He was known to have carried on his person a considerable sum of money, as much as $700, and robbery is supposed to have had a large amount with him at the time of his murder. Robbery is advanced as the motive.

Dewberry came here several years ago from the vicinity of Columbus, Ga. He has no known relatives in this city. No arrests have been made.

ATTORNEY SOON TO FILE UMPHREY'S FINAL PLEA

Prison Commission Will Be Asked to Commute Sentence of Union Veteran

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

DALTON, Ga., May 18.—The work for his final effort to save the life of his client, W. L. Umphrey, in appearing before the prison commission to request that body to recommend commuting his death sentence to life imprisonment is being prepared by Colonel W. E. Mann. Umphrey, convicted of murdering Joseph Pritchett, a well known farmer of the northern part of the county was sentenced to hang and the supreme court has affirmed the decision.

When informed that the supreme court had affirmed the lower court's decision, the aged prisoner broke down and wept, but protested his innocence. Judge Pite will probably come here next week to again set a date for the execution. The age of the prisoner, who is 68 years old and a Union veteran of the Civil war, will probably be used as a plea in the effort to save his neck.

PUERTA PLATA SHELLED BY DOMINICAN GUNBOATS

Steamer Seminole Brings to New York News of Attack on the Port

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—The Clyde line steamer Seminole arrived here today from Dominican ports with news of the bombardment of Puerto Plata. The Seminole was prevented on her outward voyage from entering the port by the Dominican gunboat Independencia which signaled that the port was under blockade.

The gunboat then was shelling the town. On the Seminole's homeward voyage she again called at Puerto Plata and this time was warned by the United States cruiser Washington not to enter. Passengers were brought on board by the cruiser's boats.

O'SHAUGHNESSY TO TALK AT MERCHANTS' DINNER

May Discuss Mexican Situation on His First Appearance in Public Since Arrival

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy will be the principal speaker at the dinner to be given by the Members' council of the Merchants' association here on the evening of May 26.

The occasion will be known as the "sons'" dinner, and is intended to bring together the sons of the members of the association and to interest them in its work.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy's address will mark his first public appearance in this country since his return from Mexico. It is expected he will talk on conditions in that country.

BECKER ACCUSED BY HIS PRESS AGENT ON STAND

Says Accused Was Disgusted Over Way Rosenthal Murder Was Committed

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Charles B. Plitt, one-time press agent and adviser for Charles Becker, on trial for the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal, took the witness stand for the state today and corroborated in many details the stories of Jack Rose and others that Becker was instigator of the murder plot. As he testified he avoided looking at the defendant.

After Rosenthal had been murdered, the witness swore, he met Becker, who was indignant at the way the killing had been accomplished.

"What is the matter with Jack Rose and the bunch?" Plitt quoted Becker as having said. "To pull the stunt the way they did was very bad. You would suppose it was being done for the moving pictures."

On July 15, the day before the murder, Plitt said he saw Becker at police headquarters.

"Becker told me," said the witness, "that he and I had to have an alibi for that night. 'Keep away from Times square tonight,' he told me."

"What's coming off?" I asked.

"Never mind," said Becker. 'Do as you are told; we've got to have an alibi. Tomorrow you'll know why.'"

Plitt showed signs of nervousness during his testimony, lowering his eyes under Becker's gaze.

The witness said he called on Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty and did the best he could to establish an alibi for Becker. He saw Becker later and Becker sent him to see Rose, then under arrest. He sent a note to Rose with reference to the employment of counsel.

Returning to Becker, said the witness, he reported that Rose had agreed to allow Becker to select his lawyer. Becker then dispatched Plitt, the witness swore, to Rose's house on Long Island.

The next day, Sunday, Plitt asserted, Becker said:

"I wonder if that bunch will squeal on me."

ALABAMA MOTORCYCLISTS PLANNING TOUR OF GA.

Riders Expect to Reach Atlanta July 8 for Stay of Two Days

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

DOTHAN, Ala., May 18.—On July 5 a motorcycle party of from fifteen to twenty-five Dothan riders will leave this city for a tour of Alabama and Georgia. The tour has the indorsement of the chamber of commerce and Secretary Cobb is now making arrangements with hotels along the routes for accommodations for the party. The official itinerary of the party is as follows:

Leave Dothan July 5 9 o'clock in the morning. Ozark at noon. Troy at 6 o'clock that evening. Arrive at Montgomery 10 o'clock morning of 6, leave 6 o'clock morning of 7. Arrive Opelika at noon, LaGrange at night. Arrive at Atlanta 8 o'clock on morning of 8. Leave Atlanta July 10, arrive Macon at noon. Leave Macon morning of 11, arrive Albany noon. Leave Albany for Dothan July 12.

SOUTH PRYOR WHITE WAY BRIGHTER THAN THE REST

So States City Electrician R. C. Turner, and Explains Why

According to City Electrician R. C. Turner, the new White Way lights just installed on South Pryor street from the Union station to Mitchell street, give 25 per cent more illumination than the other White Way lights.

He explains the increased illumination is obtained by means of a multiple wiring system, instead of the series system used in the other White Way posts, and by using a globe that is thinner.

"If anyone will compare the White Way lights on South Pryor street with the others they will notice the improvement," said Electrician Turner Monday. "I believe the difference will be so marked that there will be a demand for the whole White Way system to be wired on the multiple system, and equipped with thin globes. This can be done at no great expense. The amount of electric current consumed is no greater."

DISGUISED AS DETECTIVES, FOUR MEN LOOT "MOVIE"

Watchman Forced to Wind Clocks While $10,000 Is Removed From Safe

NEW YORK, May 18.—Posing as detectives, four men gained entrance to a Broadway motion picture theater early today, made the watchman a prisoner, handcuffed three of the workmen in the theater, then blew open the safe in the box office obtaining $10,000.

The robbers were in the theater building three hours and compelled the watchman to wind the watchman's clock at various points in the theater at the proper time, so no suspicion as to their presence would be aroused on the outside.

GIVES VOTE TO ATLANTA AS HONEYMOON CITY

Atlanta as the honeymoon city received the vote of Frank B. Kendrick, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., who returned home from the Shrine convention Thursday, married Miss Bessie Clark, of Johnston City, Tenn., in Nashville attending the Southern Baptist convention, Friday and brought her back to Atlanta Saturday to spend their honeymoon as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Anderson, of 196 Holderness street.

FINANCES OF THE CITY RUNNING RATHER CLOSE

Increase in Revenue Anticipated in January Will Barely "Pan Out" in June

That the taxable values of the city of Atlanta for 1914 will barely be sufficient to yield the revenue anticipated by the finance committee of council in making up the January appropriation sheet became known Thursday.

The January sheet carried $155,000 more from ad valorum taxes than the city took in last year. The finance committee figured that the natural increase in taxable values would be sufficient to yeld this increase. The increase in taxable values necessary to yield this increase in revenue is approximately $11,000,000.

Now it appears from estimates by the tax assessors, based on almost complete summaries of the 1914 tax digest, that the increase in taxable values will hardly amount to $11,000,000.

This means that the finance committee in making up the June appropriation sheet, which is shortly to be commenced, not only will have no additional available money for special projects and departments which got less than they wanted in the January sheet, but on the contrary will probably have to take back unexpended money from a number of appropriations in order to cover the general deficit.

There are various appropriations in the January sheet for special projects which have not been spent as yet. Some have been partially expected others are entirely intact. Most of the projects of this nature are street improvements, such as regrading and paving, and the building of new sewers.

Members of the finance committee in anticipating an increase of $11,000,000 in taxable values felt that they were perfectly safe, because the increase each year for several years past has been more than this. But it appears that the tax assessors for several years have been increasing realty assessments about as rapidly as the property would stand, and this year reached a point where they did not feel that they could go as far as they have been going.

MAYOR CANNOT ACCEPT INVITATION TO MACON

Jubilee Association Wanted Him to Speak, but Police Board Is to Meet

The Georgia Jubilee association, which meets in Macon this week, Monday extended an invitation to Mayor Woodward of Atlanta to deliver an address to the association in Macon Tuesday night on "The Atlanta Spirit."

The invitation was extended by Hon. Burgess Smith, mayor of Macon and an old-time friend of Mayor Woodward. He stated that the city of Macon and the Jubilee association joined in urging him to come, and assured him of a large audience, the address to be delivered in Macon's auditorium.

On account of the adjourned meeting of the board of police commissioners Tuesday night, at which time the board will make another effort to elect a chairman, Mayor Woodward was unable to accept the invitation. In answer to Mayor Smith's telegram he wired that he would be delighted to deliver the address if it were not for this important matter.

So far as can be learned, the police board's effort Tuesday night to elect a chairman will be no more successful than the efforts of the past few months. The board is still deadlocked, six members being for W. P. Fain for chairman, and six being for Robert T. Pace.

Miss Larendon Entertains Graduating Class

A delightful event of the afternoon was the tea given by Miss Carolyn Larendon at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Laura G. Flanders, on Moreland avenue. The home was beautifully decorated with quantities of pink roses for the occasion and tea was served from a charmingly appointed table which had for a centerpiece a plateau of the fragrant blossoms. The guest prize was a lace camisole and the first prize and the consolation were silk stockings.

Miss Nutting wore a becoming gown of pink embroidered crepe, and Miss Blount was gowned in white taffeta and lace.

Twenty guests were entertained.

COMBING WON'T RID HAIR OF DANDRUFF

The Easiest and Best Way is to Dissolve It.

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky, and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it lifeless, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—(Advt.)

HER EXPERIENCE GAINED ON TRIP

Found That Ladies in State Agreed With Her on One Important Question

Mangham La.—Mrs. Lisa Barber, of this town, who has returned from a trip in West and Middle Tennessee, has the following to say: "I have been on a trip in Middle and West Tennessee where I found many ladies using Cardui, the woman's tonic. While traveling I took great pleasure in telling what it had done for me—I not only praised Cardui—but advised poor suffering women to take it. I know that Cardui cured me and I believe it will do the same for other women.

Some time ago, I could hardly stand on my feet, and I had given up ever having good health. After using two bottles of Cardui I could tell it was helping me, and I continued taking it for awhile. I soon felt as well as I ever did, and could do all of my work.

I shall always praise this great medicine to every suffering woman. I think there is no other half so good."

Mrs. Barber would have found weak, ailing women taking Cardui almost anywhere she could have gone, because Cardui is recognized as the standard woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women back to health and strength in the past 50 years.

Why shouldn't it help you?—(Advt.)

FIELD DAY IS HELD AT BRENAU

GAINESVILLE, Ga., May 18.—The annual field day exercises were held at Brenau park Monday afternoon, May 11. The 100-yard-dash was won by Miss Katherine McKeown, of Chargin Ellis, O. The successful polo contestant was Miss Annie Lee Harbison, of Ducktown, Tenn.

Miss Katherine Lumpkin, of Columbia, S. C., was victor in the sack race and Miss Lydia Griffin, of Athens, won the standing broad jump. The three-legged race was won by Misses Catherine McKeown and Annie Lee Harbison. In the running high jump, Miss Madge Robertson, of Gainesville, carried off the laurels. The potato race was won by Miss Flossie Brannon, of Jacksonville. Miss Lydia Griffith scored 13 feet 2 inches in the running broad jump race. The half-mile race was won by Miss Winifred Hanchett.

The freshman class, which scored the greatest number of points, was awarded the silver loving cup.

Mrs. Harry white, of Birmingham, is the guest of her daughter, Etolle.

Mrs. J. P. Rulein of Joliet Ill., is visiting her daughter, Jessie.

Mss Lylia Griffith has returned from a visit to Athens.

Miss Julia Nowell is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Nowell, of Monroe.

Misses Adelaide Small, Louise Blount and Bobbie Blasingame attended the Georgia-Tech in Atlanta Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Ferguson, of Hattiesburg, Miss., are visiting their daughter, Frances. Miss Ferguson appeared to great advantage in her graduating piano recital Thursdy at 12 o'clock.

The Alpha Gamma Delta sorority entertained at an elaborate "at home" Saturday afternoon at their club house in honor of Miss Morris, of Atlanta. The sorority house was attractively decorated in the sorority colors, red, buff and green. Growing palms and festoons of smilax and buff and red shaded candles perfected the artistic arrangements.

The hostesses were Miss Ethel Dunn, Miss Eunice Johns, Miss Jewell Daniel and Miss Mary Goode. Assisting in entertaining were Misses Mary Ellen Law, Josephine Clark. Misses Mary Daniels and Mildred Pyles presided over the punch bowl.

The Brenau orchestra provided music during the social hour, and delicious refreshments were served. Monday evening the friends of the sorority enjoyed an informal dance.

An event of interest during the week was the graduating recital Tuesday afternoon of Miss Jessie Rulien, of Joliet, Ill., who receives this year a diploma from the school of oratory. Miss Rullen, who is very talented, chose for her recital, "The Story of Waitstill Baxter," by Kate Douglas Wiggin. Her excellent rendition of the story showed the results of her careful training and the enthusiasm with which she has applied herself to her studies.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

By Thornton W. Burgess

When you're in trouble don't give up—
Despair's a foolish habit.
Make up your mind there's some way out;
Remember Peter Rabbit.

Surely no one was ever in a tighter place than was Peter Rabbit when Reddy Fox chased him under the brush pile in the Green Forest and then Old Man Coyote and Granny Fox and Reddy Fox and Redtail the Hawk watched all the rest of the long day for him to come out. He couldn't stay there forever because, you know, there was nothing to eat and Peter, like most folks, just has to eat. But Peter has a great deal of wisdom in his funny little head, even if he does sometimes do very foolish things, and one of the wisest things that Peter does is never to give up hope. No matter how bad things may look for him Peter always feels sure that he will find a way out, and that, you know, is the very best way in the world to look at things.

So when Peter crawled under that pile of brush and so escaped Reddy Fox his first thought was one of thankfulness. He didn't know how he was ever going to get back to the dear Old Briar Patch, but he was safe so long as he stayed where he was, and he was very thankful for that. As he squatted there panting for breath, for he had quite lost it in dodging Reddy Fox, he heard Old Man Coyote, Reddy and Granny Fox, and Redtail the Hawk planning how they would hide where each could watch one side of the old brush pile. He couldn't hear all of the plan, but he heard enough to know that it wouldn't be safe for him to put his nose outside for a long, long time. It was bad enough to have to fool any one of those sharp-eyed enemies, but to fool all four at the same time—dear, ever a poor little Rabbit have such a task before?

After he had rested and quite got his breath Peter began to look around to see just what kind of a place the old brush pile was. He saw right away that just so long as he stayed there he was perfectly safe, for the brush was so thick that Reddy Fox could never crawl under it, though he tried his hardest while he, Peter, being so much smaller, could get about without much trouble.

"It's a regular castle," thought Peter.

Now Peter didn't know much about castles. If he had he would have expected to find somewhere secret passage. All castles, you know, have secret passages. Anyway, they are supposed to. But Peter didn't know this and so when he came to an old stump right in the middle of the brush pile and between the roots of it found a hole he was surprised. But he was just as much pleased as he was surprised. He pulled out some of the leaves and sticks that filled the doorway and went in. There was a long hall which was very dark and Peter knew by the smell that it had not been used by any one for a very long time.

"It's an old house made by one of Johnny Chuck's relatives," thought Peter. "I wonder if there is a good bedroom where I can take a nap."

He kept on down the long hall and sure enough presently came to a snug bedroom. He was just about to make himself comfortable for a nap when he noticed another hall.

So very carefully Peter crept along the other hall. It was very much longer than the first one. By and by he saw a little daylight ahead and knew that he was nearly to a doorway. Like the first doorway, this one was partly closed with dead leaves and sticks. Peter peeped out between them. Then his heart gave a great jump. That doorway wasn't under the old brush pile at all. It was almost under the very tree in which sat Redtail the Hawk, keeping watch, and it was very nearly hidden by a little hemlock tree growing close by. Peter chuckled, a still little chuckle, that no one should hear. Then he stretched himself out to watch and wait. When the black shadows began to creep through the Green Forest Redtail flew away to get Hooty the Owl to take his place, for you know Redtail cannot see at night. Then very, very carefully Peter pulled aside the leaves and sticks and tiptoed out, taking care not to make the teeniest, weeniest sound. As soon as he dared he began to run, lipperty-lipperty-lip and soon was well on his way to the dear Old Brier Patch.

Mobile Gulls Take First Game From Crackers on a Rally in the Ninth

DIANA DILLPICKLES IN "A BOON FOR THE BEAUS" A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

Gulls Rally in Ninth and Win From Crackers

In First Game of the Season Between the Two Teams, Lord's Charge Triumphs by Score of 2 to 1—Doescher Will Pitch Today.

BY ELLIOTT DENT.

MOBILE, Ala., May 17.—Yesterday was the first appearance of the Crackers in Mobile this season and the first time the two teams have met since the great pennant fight of 1913.

The two teams lined up at 3 o'clock with Keefe doing the pitching for Mobile and Dent for Atlanta. As soon as the umpire called play a pitchers' battle was started. Neither team could score in the first three innings, both pitchers being at their best. In the fourth Long beat out a slow infield hit. Welchonce sacrificed him to second and he scored when Eibel drove one to deep center for a single. It looked as though this would be enough to win, for Mobile could not even come close to scoring during the first eight innings. The Crackers had men on bases frequently, and in the sixth they had the bases full and only one out, but could not get a run across. The old much-needed pinch hitter just wasn't there.

In the ninth a heavy downpour of rain fell, but play was continued. The rain made it bad for both pitchers, but it worked more against Atlanta than Mobile, for this is the time that Mobile came through with two runs and enough to beat us, 2 to 1.

In this inning Kirby, the leading hitter of the league, reached outside the plate and hit one for a single. He had looked foolish on the same kind of ball his three previous trips to the plate. Lord followed him by hitting a wasted ball for two sacks, putting Kirby on third. Schmidt was purposely walked, filling the sacks. Clark hit a grounder to McConnell, who was playing in close, and it got away, going for a hit, and Kirby scored. Miller struck out and Dobard, in an attempt to bunt, popped one over Eibel's head and the winning run was scored.

We hated to lose the game after such a battle had been fought, but such is the luck of baseball.

Welchonce made two fine catches in center, which was the fielding feature of the game.

Capital City Club Golfers Started Play on First Round Yesterday—Results of the Matches

A number of the matches in the first round of play in the E. H. Inman trophy tournament over the Capital City Country club's Brookhaven golf course were played Sunday. Fifty-four players qualified in the matches of Saturday, completing three flights of eighteen contestants each. Remaining matches of the first round must be played by Wednesday of the week. The second round must be finished by Sunday, while the third will be played by Wednesday of next week, with the finals by Sunday, the 31st.

This is a handicap tournament, the winner of which will be awarded the handsome Inman trophy. The winner of the second flight will likewise be given a nice award, as will the runners-up in the two flights.

FIRST FLIGHT.

C. F. King (10), beat John Harbingy (24), 5 up with 3 to play.
E. G. Ottley (14), beat S. C. Holland (16), 1 up.
Captain Johnson (16), beat E. H. Spalding (26), 7 up with 5 to play.
Macon Martin (10), beat C. E. Sciple (24), 3 up with 2 to play.
W. B. Carlton (20), beat W. C. Hickey (24), 3 up with 2 to play.
W. T. Spike (24), beat Edward Johnson (24), 6 up with 5 to play.

SECOND FLIGHT.

B. Callaway (14), beat J. Ward Smith (22), 1 up.
John Aldredge (24), beat J. G. Williams (22), 1 up (19 holes.)

THIRD FLIGHT.

A. S. Watson (24), beat E. A. Peebles (24), 3 up.

American Polo Team In Form

NEW YORK, May 18.—With the aid of Hal Phipps, who appears to have won the fourth place on the international polo team, the "Big Three"—J. M. Waterbury, D. L. Milburn and L. Waterbury—yesterday easily defeated the second team by the score of 10 to 3 in the fastest game of polo seen in the east this season. A crowd of more than a thousand saw the match and the sensational playing of Milburn, Captain Waterbury and the general team work of the first team amply rewarded them for the journey to Westbury.

The second team failed to score until the fourth period after the big three and Phipps had a lead of seven goals. Mounted on Conover, a Texas pony which has seen service in all of the international matches Captain Waterbury made a goal from the throw-in in three shots. His time of fourteen seconds made this goal the fastest so far recorded this season.

Aviator Meets Death in Fall

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, Germany, May 18.—The Prince Henry aviation competition began Sunday at Darmstadt. The start was made at 5 o'clock in the morning and eighteen military aviators and thirteen civilians took the air. About 20 additional military aviators will take part in the contests later. These embrace the duration and military reconnoissance features.

One fatal and several minor accidents occurred Sunday. Lieutenant Walz fell at Pforsheim, and was slightly bruised, but his passenger, Lieutenant Mundel, was killed. Lieutenant Hidessen and passenger fell, but escaped with slight injuries.

Prince Henry of Prussia witnessed the start.

Americans Win

VERA CRUZ, May 18.—Americans and Mexicans met in friendly battle on the baseball field here Sunday and the Fourth infantry team defeated the Aguilas, an all-star Mexican team, in a four-inning game, 4 to 0.

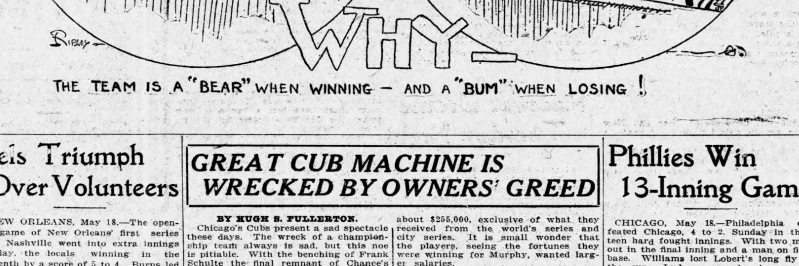
DON'T PICK ME OUT TO ASK--- ---BY RIPLEY



Pels Triumph Over Volunteers

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—The opening game of New Orleans' first series with Nashville went into extra innings Sunday, the locals winning in the eleventh by a score of 5 to 4. Burns led off with a single in the eleventh and after two were out indeed hits by Barbare and Adams brought him home. Rain delayed the starting of the game and the going was heavy. Walker struck out twelve batsmen. The locals scored a tying run in the sixth, due to Sylvester's daring base running and Burns' timely hit.

Nashville	001 200 000 00—	4
New Orleans	300 001 000 01—	5

Marshall, Stevens and Gibson; Walker and Adams.

Lookouts Trounce Montgomery Billikens

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 18.—Chattanooga won their first game of the season from Montgomery Sunday in easy fashion, 10 to 2. East started for Montgomery and, after passing three batters and hitting one, forcing in one run, was replaced by Nelson, who passed the first batter up and yielded five more base hits in the first inning, during which ten Chattanoogans came to bat. After this inning Nelson settled down and pitched good ball, but Montgomery could not overcome the lead of six runs. Knaupp's fielding and a running one-hand catch by Jacobson were features of the game.

Turtles Win Game In Twelfth Inning

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 18.—Mullen's single in the twelfth inning scored two runs and gave Memphis a victory, 3 to 2, over Birmingham Sunday. Up to the twelfth both Holmes and Brown pitched excellent ball, and neither team scored. Both weakened in the last inning, Birmingham scoring two runs and Memphis paving the way to a victory before Harbin relieved Brown.

Memphis	000 000 000 003—	3
Birmingham	000 000 000 002—	2

Turtles Secure Outfielder Wilson

MEMPHIS, May 18.—Wilson, an outfielder and first baseman secured from the Boston Americans, joined the Memphis team Sunday and got a hit. Wilson will probably replace George Merritt at first base until Dinckel gets back into the game. Wilson was with Lynn, Mass., last year, and hit .367.

GREAT CUB MACHINE IS WRECKED BY OWNERS' GREED

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Chicago's Cubs present a sad spectacle these days. The wreck of a championship team always is sad, but this one is pitiable. With the benching of Frank Schulte the final remnant of Chance's great team disappears from action. Deserted by its friends, hooted from the stands, beaten by tail-end clubs, with a bunch of has-beens half heartedly battling along with worse recruits, the grandest pitching staff in the league wrecked and ruined, the Cubs present an object-lesson in the results of greed that ought to be a warning to all club owners—yes, and to players.

The ruin of the great machine built up by Chance is the result of nothing else than money greed—greed by the players for more money; worse greed by the owner.

Let us go back to the start. The Cubs, when Murphy came into possession of the team, were among the lowest-salaried players in either major league. Selee believed in small salaries. Chance did not. Chance went to pay his men what they were worth and to reward them. Over Murphy's protest he acquired Steinfeldt and rounded out his team.

In four years this team earned a profit of about $650,000. During those four years the salary paid to all players was about $255,000, exclusive of what they received from the world's series and city series. It is small wonder that the players, seeing the fortunes they were turning for Murphy, wanted larger salaries.

Murphy and Chance broke first. Chance was wrong. He signed a contract, then demanded more money. Murphy hot headedly accused Chance of bolstering expense accounts. Chance flew into a rage and quit. He forced Murphy to tear up the old contract, give him a new one and more money. The night Murphy surrendered to Chance he declared he would get him. He did.

Then Brown, Overall and Pfister formed a combination to hold out and agreed none would sign until all got what they wanted. Murphy gave in, but from that day the three pitchers were marked men. Hofman held out and Murphy refused to pay him more. Hofman was marked for release that day.

The story is the same in almost every case. Murphy surrendered and bided his time. He fired Chance as soon as he thought the manager was down and out with illness. He sent Brown to Louisville under an agreement that Brown never was to be permitted to return to a major league club, and he "canned" Hofman.

Grammar School Teams Begin Championship Play

Fraser	7	7	.533

Battle Hill	1	14	.067

With the above ranking the twelve teams in the local Grammar league brought their season to a very successful ending last Friday afternoon, and all that remains is the play-off between Oakland and Formwalt for the championship before the season of 1914 becomes a matter of history.

On both sides of the league the race has been very hot and some very good games have been played this year by the various teams.

Oakland, on the north side, won the pennant with a perfect percentage, not losing a single game, although they won several of their victories by very close margins. Tenth was the hardest customer that Oakland had, and on one occasion tied them, and lost in the play off by a one-point margin. Edgewood, which finished in second place on the north side, also had a hard time winning out over Tenth for second position, winning this place in the last game of the season.

Formwalt, on the south side, did not have an easy time winning their fourth consecutive pennant. This is the first time, in the four years that this league has been running, that Formwalt has not gone through the entire season without winning the pennant with a perfect percentage. Fraser, which finished in fourth place after battling the first game to Formwalt, won from them on both of the other two occasions that the latter played. Peoples, which was runner-up in this section of the league, only won over Hill by a very narrow margin, this also being decided in the final game of the season.

Another feature of the league this year has been the way the lowest teams in the leagues have gone through the entire season, playing out every one of their games. Probably never before in the history of the league has this thing happened, on both sides of the league. Also every team won at least one game.

At a meeting held recently at 119 Peachtree the following schedule for the play-off for the championship of the city by Oakland and Formwalt was adopted:

Monday, May 18, at Piedmont park: Edgewood vs. Peoples (from 3:45 until 5:45.)

Formwalt vs. Oakland (from 3:45 until 5:45.)

On Wednesday and Friday the same games will be played, except that Wednesday's game will be played at Brisbine park. If it rains on any of the three days the following day will be used, and provided it rains on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the games will be played on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Phillies Win 13-Inning Game

CHICAGO, May 18.—Philadelphia defeated Chicago, 4 to 2, Sunday in thirteen hard fought innings. With two men out in the final inning and a man on first base, Williams lost Lobert's long fly in the sun. Luderus scored. A moment later Magee singled and scored Lobert.

McCormick to Stand Pat on Hurling Staff

Return of Lorenzen to Ottumwa Club Leaves Only One Portsider — Fox, Harding, Reisigl and Boyd Complete Corps

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., May 11.—The Lookouts' heaving staff as it stands at present is to be retained throughout the season, that is unless Howell, when he reports in June, dislodges one of the sextet now under contract. The men whom McCormick is now relying upon to carry him to a pennant are Fox, Sline, Resigl, Harding, Boyd and Kroh.

As will be seen, there will be but one left-hander, Kroh, upon the 1914 staff, in strong contrast to last year when with Sommers, Kroh and Covelesky southpaws were in the majority. McCormick's action in retaining Boyd is lieu of Lorenzen, his second portsider, seems to indicate that he has more confidence in the fingers who hurl from the conventional side.

With a record of five won, one lost and two tied to date, Fox appears to be the real star of the staff. The hurling of the Harrisburg recruit to date has been nothing short of sensational. A heaver who can prevent the Crackers reaching second base and prevent the Feds getting to first except in two innings must be a star of the first magnitude.

Kroh, Resigl and Boyd, the veterans of the staff, are hurling dependable ball at present, but have not struck their real stride. The Lookout staff should not show its greatest strength before the middle of June. Harding is already handing out a winning brand of pitching, but Boyd is more or less an unknown quantity.

The release of Lorenzen caused some little surprise to the laymen, but not to those conversant with the terms of the deal which brought him to the locals from the Ottumwa club. Under the agreement by which he was secured the local club was obligated to pay $2,000 for the youngster if he were permanently kept. McCormick couldn't see where the recruit southpaw was $2,000 more valuable to the club than Harding or Boyd.

While it is admitted that the local staff is not the strongest in the league, McCormick is far from worried over the heaving outlook. He considers the staff which he now controls strong enough to pitch the club into a pennant. That is about all that could be asked.

Capital City Club Golfers Begin Play in Tournament for Inman Trophy

LITTLE PAL---FOR COUNTRY, HOME AND WIDOW --BY LEO

THE SPORTLIGHT
BY GRANTLAND RICE

A BYRONIC APPEAL.

(Our annual song of springtime.)

Game of golluf, heed this note—
Give, O give me back my goat.

* * *

Once I knew no care or sigh,
Now I rave within my sleep;
Once I could not tell a lie,
Now I make my caddie weep;
Once I knew no alibi,
Now there's nothing else I keep.

* * *

Once I never grew profane,
Now I simply let 'er rip;
Once I had a useful brain,
Actively upon the flip;
Now I waste my time in vain
Grappling with my Vardon Grip.

* * *

Once Ambition was astir
To succeed at trade—or books;
Now I dabble in a whirr
Of elusive "tops" and "hooks;"
Once I gave my life to Her,
Now I wonder how she looks.

* * *

Once I used to work a while,
Now I never see the store;
Once I could have a pile,
Now I only make a score;
Once my presence meant a smile,
Now I am an Awful Bore.

* * *

Game of golluf, heed this pote—
Give, O give me back my goat.

EXPLAING A MYSTERY.

"How is it," we asked the eminent Mr. Covaleskie, "that any New York ball club—Giants or Yankees—are always soft for you? If there's any mystery attached, kindly shoot."

The great pitcher took us to one side and fired an earful pointblank. "It's about like this," he responded. "I merely work a new angle of the celebrated Keeler theory of hitting, viz.: Pitch 'em where their bats ain't."

We were not so successful with Mr. Jennings. He refused pointblank to tell us whether he would start Dubuc, Mains or Covaleskie in the first game of the world series.

"It all depends," he remarked, "on whether John McGraw starts Matty or Fred Clarke opens with Babe Adams. But until I get a definite report from the other league I have nothing else to say."

ONE REASON.

Last season at this stage Philadelphia and Brooklyn in the National league were far out in front, playing a pennant twosome.

The year before at this stage the White Sox were ten jumps ahead in the American but they couldn't finish third.

And back in 1911 at this stage Hughey himself had gathered in something like eighteen victories out of twenty starts—bu they caught him before the stretch and dumped his body down the hatchway.

Remember, ere you pledge the flag
Abaft the foaming cup,
It isn't where you are in May—
It's where you finish up.

Which isn't saying that Hughey, Ty, Sam, Donie and the rest of them haven't about as robust a chance as any one else. And a better one than most.

In the elastic spiel of the Hon. R. L. Goldberg, now that England's got her polo team picked, what's she gonna do with it?

As we understand it, none of the American golfers has drawn a hard man to beat in the opening round of Monday. Quite so. And all Ray and Vardon had to beat last fall was Ouimet, a handicap amateur, who had never before been classed with the first ten among the amateurs alone. Sometimes when you think you've got a cinch it suddenly turns and bites you on the ankle, or the spine.

"To settle an argument and a small bet," queries T. H. J., "what is the best infield in the big leagues?"

Do you mean outside of the Athletics?

HOW TO RUN BASES.
By Tyrus Raymond Cobb.
(Written exclusively for these dispatches.)

Get there ahead of the ball.

It is rumaored that Cobb would be willing to jump to the Feds for a $75,000 guarantee for three years' work. You can also confirm the rumor that we will jump to Gehenna for the same amount.

ONE WAY OUT.

A frantic golfer writes B. L. T. that he tried looking at the cup on his putt—and missed. That he then tried looking at the ball—and missed. "What shall I do next?" he asks.

We refer him to Stewart Malden, the Atlanta pro. "I'm off my drive," a duffer told Malden one day. "First I sliced one and then I get a bad hook. What should I do?"

It took four separate and distinct invitations to get Leslie St. George Cheape to join the English polo team. But if you had ever ridden against the Big Four at Meadowbrook two years in succession even four invitations to repeat might not be quite enough.

FULLERTON'S GOSSIP

In a soccer contest a kickout hit a player on the head and bounded into goal, 18 yards away. There's the game for Ping Bodie.

Chicago's coroner declares 12,000 persons in that city are planning suicide, thus proving that the Cubs and White Sox are doomed to the second division.

Ward entertained his Brooklyn players by showing them through his Chicago bakery. Now if Stiftel were to suggest an inspection he'd get more enthusiastic thanks.

Give it to Charlie Weeghman. If his ball club can't play on account of rain he gets even in his movie houses.

Boxers to Meet Thursday Night

Both Hanlon and Perry Expect to Win—Odds Favor Pittsburger Over Local Boy

Jimmy Perry and Eddie Hanlon who were scheduled to mix it in a ten-round battle at the Orpheum Wednesday night will get together in that ring on Thursday night of next week. Promoter Castro announces that he has made arrangement for such a bout. As Castro says, the Shriners were far too many other forms of attractions Wednesday night right up and down Peachtree and adjoining streets to walk five or six blocks out of the way to watch a boxing match.

The two boxers are in shape for the match, and it will be put on next week, as announced above. Both boys are confident that they will get by with the bacon. Hanlon claims that he will ask to land just once on Perry, while Jimmy says he expects to pack Eddie away along about the seventh round. Both boys are hard hitters and either is liable to put over a kayo, if he can land squarely. Perry has a margin on Hanlon in experience and also in skill at boxing, but the local boy expects that his terrific punch will get the goods for him.

Races at 'Drome Tuesday Night

After a lay-off of several days, racing will be resumed at the Atlanta motordrome Tuesday night.

Three new riders will make their initial appearance at the local track tomorrow night. George Lockner, George Renel and George Hall are the Chicago riders who will participate in Tuesday's show. Lockner and Reinfeer have appeared here before and both did some fast riding. With the arrival of this trio there will be twelve of the fastest riders in the game here.

The best card of the season has been arranged and Tuesday's races should prove interesting. There will be three heats and a final, of a motordrome purse, the heats two miles and the final three miles. There will be three heats of a sweepstakes of three miles and a final of four miles. In addition there will be several match and consolation races.

Today's Batteries

Billies vs. Lookouts

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 18.—Determined to even up with Chattanooga for the slaughter received Sunday, the Montgomery club will send its star pitcher, Black, to the mound. Kleinow will be on the receiving end for the Montgomery club. Manager McCormick has not announced the battery for Chattanooga. The weather was threatening when the game started at 3:45 o'clock.

Barons vs. Memphis

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 18.—Birmingham and Memphis will open a three-game series this afternoon at Rickwood park beginning at 3:30. Birmingham will probably send Robertson in to pitch, with Diliger catching. Memphis will use H. Merritt, with Bemis behind the bat. The weather is cloudy and cool.

Pels vs. Volunteers

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—More or Berger for Nashville, with Gibson catching, was the battery announced by Manager Schwartz for the second game of the series today. Manager Dobbs was expected to work Wilson and Higgins. Loss of Sunday's contest cost Manager Schwartz, Umpire Kellum fining the visiting leader at the end of the game for strenuously protesting against a decision when the winning run was scored.

LaGrange Club Leading Chase

Lafitte's Charges Are Far in Front at the End of the Second Week

ANNISTON, Ala., May 18.—The second week of the second season of the Georgia-Alabama league ended Saturday with all of the clubs, with the exception of LaGrange bunched together and all of the clubs playing good ball, but the attendance is reported to be poor in every town except LaGrange.

Opelika made faster strides than any other team in the league last week. The players on that club seemed to have a fever for hitting the ball and several for bidding for extra bases. Rome and Gadsden were the ones to suffer defeat most, both were on the road at least two games in each series.

Anniston after starting the season with a batting slump, opened up strong the first of last week and batted hard during all six games played. Costly errors and bad pitching were the cause of the visiting team winning the two games out of three played here. Had the pitcher been in the right kind of condition, and had the team fielded like they did in the Rome series, they would have won all three games from Opelika.

Talladega started out good in the first part of the week and played Rome three good games, and the fans in that city were so excitied over their team that they were betting two to one on every game played, it is said. If that is true, they must have lost a bunch of coin when the Opelika sluggers hit the Infelfian village.

Rome and Gadsden have proved that they have good fielding teams, with the latter having a good pitching staff and Rome with a fair one. But neither club has good hitters with the exception of a few on each team.

Newnan and LaGrange have been the surprise of the league. It was thought that Newnan would get the jump on all of the clubs as they appeared to have collected the best players of any other club in the league. On the other hand, no one expected much of LaGrange and it is stated all over circuit that the Georgia team is playing over their heads and is sure to hit the stump of defeat at the hands of the other clubs in the league.

Selma, with Art Riggs and his old heads and sluggers are doing just about like every one expected them to do, with the exception of Art Riggs himself, who expected to walk through the league on victory.

Pat Anniston club with Bob Ragsdale, an old Auburn star at their head is improving every day and will strengthen with every day they play. Several new players will report between now and the first of June. One who is reputed to be a star will join the club in Gadsden. They have a good club and once they hit their stride the other clubs will have to look out. The team will play about .500 ball while away this week, which is about all one can expect of a real team and when they return for the last week on this month at home for six games, they are expected to start their club to the top of the ladder.

Police Stop Game

SCRANTON, Pa., May 18.—A baseball game between the Syracuse and Scranton teams of the New York State league was broken up by the police here Sunday. The battery was arrested after one man had been retired at first. Team owners say they will go into court today and ask a mandamus on the city officials.

Eighth Round Played On Chess Tournament

ST. PETERSBURG, May 18.—In the eighth round of the international chess tournament Sunday Marshall and Tarrasch drew, and Alechine and Lasker adjourned their game.

Present scores:

Capablanca, 10 1-2; Lasker, 10; Alechine, 8; Marshall, 7 1-2; Tarrasch, 7.

"PRIDE GOETH."

BY FULLERTON.

Pal Brown, the boxer, just returned from Australia, was received with great applause when he entered the ring at Superior, Wis. Stepping to the ropes, he bowed again and again and then said:

"Gentlemen, it is a great pleasure for me to be with you tonight. I appreciate your welcome and always have a warm spot in my heart for Superior. I only regret exceedingly that the management failed to get an opponent for me worthy of the occasion—one who could make me exert myself and show you my best."

Then Johnny Tillman shook hands and proceeded to give Pal the stiffest lacing he has taken in years.

French Driver Sets New Record

(By Associated Press.)

INDIADAFOLIS, May 18.—Georges Boillet, the French automobile race driver, Sunday set a new record for one lap at the speedway here when he circled the 2 1-2 mil track in one minute and 35 4-5 seconds.

This is the second time the record has been broken in three days. The old record of 1:37 made in 1910 was lowered Friday by Joe Dawson who circled the track in 1:36 3-5. Saturday Boillet equalled Dawson's mark and today circled the course in 3-5 seconds less time. Boillet was practicing in preparation for the annual 500 mile race to be held here May 30.

Michigan Starts On Road Jaunt

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 18.—The University of Michigan baseball squad left Sunday on Michigan's eastern invasion tour. Games will be played this week with Syracuse, Cornell, Princeton, Swarthmore and Pennsylvania. Michigan has won fifteen of the sixteen games played so far this season, its only defeat being at the hands of the University of Georgia.

PIEL BROS.
PROVE THEIR CLAIMS

"Minute special chemical examinations for benzoic, salicylic, boric and sulphurous acids or any of their salts or fluorides, showed the absence of these preservatives in all Piel Bros. brews. Subsequent general biological tests proved conclusively that the beers contain no preservatives whatsoever, either organic or inorganic."

The Real Estate Field

Week Started With Spurt in Building Activity, Over $40,000 Worth of Permits Being Granted Monday Morning—$25,000 Apartment House to Be Built at North Avenue and Williams Street—West End Park and Other Sales

The week began with a considerable spurt in building activity, the permits issued morning permits to the value of over $40,00 were granted. Among the permits was one for brick veneer dwellings on Inman circle, Ansley park, which will cost $8,000 each.

There were also permits for two $2,500 dwellings, one $3,000 dwelling and one $5,000 alteration job.

This will materially boost the May record and there is yet hope that the month will equal the unusual showing made in May, 1913.

ANOTHER APARTMENT.

A. A. Canton, the architect, is making plans for Arch Crichton for an apartment house Mr. Cribbs will start on June 1 at the southwest corner of North Avenue and Williams street.

The building will be three stories, of brick veneer construction and will cost $25,000. There will be ten apartments of four rooms each. The lot has a frontage of 50 feet on North avenue and 114 feet on Williams street.

SMALL SALES.

There were also quite a number of small sales announced on Monday. These sales were all by W. J. Davis of his own properties located on various sections.

They were as follows: To Dr. Mark Johnson, 14 Stokes avenue, a six-room bungalow on a lot 50x150, in West End park, $4,200.

To T. B. Kamper, 62 Blue Ridge avenue, a five-room bungalow on a lot 56x200, for $4,500.

To J. B. Hendon, 43 West Tenth street, a bungalow on a lot 40x100, for $4,950.

To Columbus Marshall, a lot 75x226 on Sunset avenue, $1,100.

To Mrs. Minnie A. Davis, 325 Windsor street, a cottage on a lot 50x100, for $1,400.

CREDIT FOR SALE.

In the meeting of sales made on Sunday by Mrs. C. L. Bovard, credit also should have been given to Mrs. M. L. Randolph.

DOUGLAS MERCHANT HELD; SAYS HE'S READY FOR TRIAL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

DOUGLAS, Ga., May 18.—A. L. Dowling, a merchant and owner of the Grand theater at Douglas, was arrested here Saturday and jailed on complaint of authorities from Orangeburg, S. C. It is claimed that Dowling, while cashier of a bank at Orangeburg, about two years ago, made some misappropriation of funds, and he is wanted to answer that charge.

Mr. Dowling is awaiting the arrival of an officer from Orangeburg to take him to South Carolina, where he says he will go without requisition, and he says his record is clean, and he is perfectly willing to face the charge.

Mr. Dowling is confident an officer will arrive some time today to take him back, and that Mr. Dowling will carry his counsel back with him.

GRADY FARMER KILLS HIS OWN SON-IN-LAW; FREED

Elza Singletary Defends His Daughter by Shooting Tom Lane to Death

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

CAIRO, Ga., May 18.—Claiming defense of his daughter against a drink-crazed husband, Elza Singletary, a widely known Grady county farmer living five miles east of here, last night at 9 o'clock shot and instantly killed his son-in-law, Tom Lane. After the coroner's jury today returned a verdict of justifiable homicide.

Lane's wife had separated from her husband some time ago and was living with her father. It is said that Sunday night Lane, while under the influence of liquor, went to the Singletary home and threatened to kill his wife.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—President Wilson and King Hhakon VII of Norway today exchanged congratulatory telegrams, the text of which was made known at the Washington today.

"In the name of the government and people of the United States I extend to your majesty sincere felicitations on the centennial being celebrated today in Norway," cabled the president under date of May 17.

The government of the United States is keenly sensible of the cordial feeling harbored in your enlightened and energetic people toward those of the United States and in assuring you of the desire and aim of this government to reciprocate that feeling and to contribute myself of the opportunity to renew to your majesty my personal good wishes for your continued welfare and happiness."

Today the following reply was received:

"I thank your excellency very much for your kind telegram which my people appreciate very much as it comes from as many Norwegians who are now good American citizens as like myself, who do not forgetting the old mother country."

BLAST HOPES OF MAIL-CARRYING RAILROADS

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The court of claims today in a test case decision blasted the hopes of mail carrying railroads for the collection of large sums based on the claim that the government's mail weighing system results in under-payment to the roads. The case in an opinion by Chief Justice Campbell, dismissed the petition of the Chicago and Alton railroad for $85,60.

Nearly all of the mail carrying railroads entering Atlanta are affected. They claimed that since the institution of the present average weekly weighing system the roads are losing about $50,000,000 through under-payment.

On a former trial judgment was rendered in favor of the railroads by the department of justice obtained a rehearing.

REPLICAS OF COLUMBUS' SHIPS FALLING TO PIECES

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 18.—The Santa Maria, the Nina and the Pinta, reproductions of the Christopher Columbus caravels, presented to this country by Spain for the world's fair of 1893, are decaying at a dock in Erie, Pa., it was said here today. J. F. Pierce, superintendent of the South Parks of this city, official custodian of the caravels, said he would take steps to have them returned.

The vessels last summer were started for the Panama exposition at San Francisco via the great lakes and Panama canal route, but, it is said, proved too old and unseaworthy to stand the trip.

NAVAL STORES CASE TO BE OPENED THIS WEEK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 18.—The May term of the United States court began in Savannah this morning with Judge W. I. Grubb, of Alabama, on the bench. There is considerable business to transact during the time Judge Grubb is here.

The famous naval stores case will come up during the time Judge Grubb is in the city. It promises to be a trial of great interest. There will be an effort made by the defense to throw the case out of court, as it is now returned. It is claimed that the supreme court of the United States has dismissed the case and that this brings it to an end.

FIRM IN THEIR BELIEF, ADOPT FOURTH CHILD

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Firm in their belief that environment and education and not heredity govern the character of children, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ely, of this city have adopted a fourth child.

The new baby, a girl eighteen months old, was the ward of the town of Newburg, N. Y., where she was born amid squalid surroundings and soon found to be a burden by her mother when her father disappeared.

Mr. Ely is director of the league for political education. Mrs. Ely is the daughter of Dr. H. Rudolph Scheffer, the noted botanist.

COTTON MADE NEW HIGH RECORD FOR THE SEASON

Market in New York Closed 2 to 7 Points Higher Than the Previous Close

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Higher cables and a continuation of unsettled weather in the general cotton belt caused buying at the opening of the market here today, and prices were higher, with all active positions showing a fresh gain. Business was active and general, and the advance was at times somewhat intensified here somewhat irregular right after the call when prices eased a few points from the top figures reached.

Prices eased back to about Saturday's closing level immediately following the call, but the detailed weather reports received by private wires from the cotton growing sections of the south showed a fresh spurt of buying toward midday and active months sold 9 to 9 points net higher and were in the room both ways.

The general tone of the market during the afternoon was steady, and fluctuations ranged within a few points around the previous close. Reports of the advance in Liverpool and the continued unsettled and rainy weather in the cotton belt were the principal factors influencing the market here today. Prices closed steady, with the active months 2 to 7 points net higher.

STOCK MARKET OPINIONS

Commercial: Pessimistic talk about industrial conditions must be taken with the proverbial grain of salt.

Post: The stock market is still strictly professional, but in the last two or three days there has been a distinct little increase in public interest on the buying side.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET WAS STRONG AND HIGHER

Union Pacific, Reading, Steel, Canadian Pacific, Copper and St. Paul Led Advance

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Stocks were in increased demand today and prices generally moved in the early trading with a strong upward movement. Extraordinary gains in individual shares ahead rapidly, although the Steel and Copper issues also made a good showing.

Resuming a conservative position regarding the chances for successful settlement of the Mexican situation and satisfactory crop reports, general demand now that the London settlement has been concluded, a satisfactorily unchanged bank statement and a favorable change in the weather map, bullish traders to take on stocks. In the first half hour prices of the leaders were raised 1 to 2 points.

The opening bulge drove the shorts to cover but after their immediate demands had been satisfied the market grew quiet. Prices were shaded slightly toward noon but the greater part of the early advance was retained. Specialties were strong and irregular.

Profit-taking and activity of the bears regained from the earlier gains largely in the afternoon. New York Central and Atchison declined on increase in European copper output. Subsequently, however, the closing was firm, bank statement weakened time loans for short periods at favorable rates.

Unloading of other shares proceeded under cover of the buying in Steel and United States, to their highest. In the final trading the whole list showed a fresh gain, Chesapeake and Ohio losing over a point.

Woofter, dean of the Peabody school of education at the University of Georgia, prominent in educational work in the south, was a prominent visitor in Oxford today. Dr. Woofter has been delegated by Dr. P. P. Claxton, head of the department of education of the federal government, to spend November, December and January on a trip of research work to New Zealand.

Weather Conditions

Forecast till 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Atlanta and vicinity: Fair tonight and Tuesday.

Georgia and Alabama: Unsettled tonight and Tuesday.

The area of high atmospheric pressure was that of slowly advancing eastward across the country is now central over the middle states, with fair weather in the east of the Lakes east to the Atlantic and southward to Georgia. Throughout the cotton belt, however, considerable cloudiness is reported, with light showers from Alabama northward to Texas, only large amount of rain reported being 2.02 inches at Del Rio. Temperatures have risen northward over the Rocky Mountain region to Montana under the influence of slight but widespread depressions central over Arizona and in Canada.

Temperatures remain moderately low for the season, ranging from 70 degrees at 7 a. m. along the Gulf coast to about 50 degrees in the Plateau region.

Fair weather, with no material change, is indicated for Atlanta tonight and Tuesday.

COTTON GOSSIP

Washington—Forecast for the week: Unsettled weather and showers, probably the first half of the week in southern states. Latter half of the week generally fair. Temperatures will average near normal.

Map shows fair in Tennessee and North Carolina, partly cloudy in Georgia; cloudy rest of the belt. General rains over Sunday in the western states; showers in Texas and Mississippi; continued cool in northwestern quarter of the belt.

Indications are for continued and unsettled and rainy weather in Mississippi valley. Also some showers in the southeastern quarter, generally fair in Tennessee and Kentucky.

Forecast:

Arkansas—Tonight and Tuesday unsettled.

Oklahoma—Local rains tonight and Tuesday, probably showers.

East Texas—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, probably showers; gentle to moderate easterly to southerly winds on the coast.

West Texas—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, probably showers.

Alabama and Georgia—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday.

Kentucky—Fair tonight and Tuesday.

Tennessee—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday.

Mississippi—Unsettled tonight and Tuesday, probably showers.

10 a. m. bids in New Orleans were: May 13.28; July 12.90; August ——.

Market was very steady with buying coming from same sources as Saturday. McFadden and Mitchell among the purchasers, also other spot people. Selling was scattered. Local weather reports were generally favorable and Liverpool market looks higher.—Andy.

Liverpool—The market closed 1,500 May notices out this morning. Have no doubt will be promptly absorbed. Market looks higher.—Andy.

Liverpool—The market will be closed May 30 June 1 and 2.

Our wire advices from Texas are very unfavorable and unless we have a change for better we look for higher prices this week.—Andy.

Alice, southwest Texas, reports: "Talked to a number of farmers this morning and traveling men on cotton situation in this territory. They say 10 today planted will be plowed up to be abandoned, owing to too much rain, grass, weeds and insects. Say 10 to 15 days more cotton is being plowed up and land put into feed crops."

New York reports McFadden big buyer of July. Local interests also buyers on the bulge. Looks back, weather too cool; expect big advance when actual conditions are known and realized.

Thorn & Maginnis, of New Orleans, say: "Local interests are buying July on the bulge. There was some rain over Sunday in Texas, and map again indicated unsettled weather for the western belt over night. This was too much and a steady market resulted. Chartists (interest and Liverpool) continued throughout the morning session, which is becoming more interested on the idea that the crop is getting in a bad fix and that it will be necessary and that the condition report on June 1 may show up low."

Troy, Ala., says: "The severe storm of the 15th did much damage to corn, cotton, peanuts, age, plowing up and replanting necessitated, but trouble not general. Start of crop earliest on record. Stands perfect.

Houston, Texas: "Crop situation, except in northwest, is very unsatisfactory, owing to continuous rain at this season of the year, but is improving and we think acreage will be decreased."

Montgomery, Ala., says: "Planting in eastern half about finished. Early planted up to good stand. Late planted not so good on account of low temperature. Rain interfering. Fields clean, plants healthy, situation satisfactory."

The bull sentiment is based on crop reports on constant buying of July by McFadden, Mitchell, Hutchins and said to be buying. Market looks higher.—Andy.

STOCK GOSSIP

Dow, Jones summary:

Ford motor to lay off about 6,000 men within a week. Directors of Pennsylvania railroad company meet today. Philadelphia Ledger says five Pennsylvania directors, steadily increasing their favor increase in rates and that a 5% to 4 per cent. dividend basis will be declared between May 25 and June 10. Wabash reorganization plan calls for issuance of $10,192,800 in capital and assessment of $20 a share on stockholders; preferred stockholders to receive new stock at par, common stock at 50 per cent. Committee will make meeting denounce governor's plan to have state take over railroads. Senate committee has decided to recommend President Wilson's Panama tolls bill as reported. Treasury statement, $32,91, off, 15.

Sentiment is more cheerful in financial affairs here and abroad. Favor purchases for turn in stocks. Bonds are dull. Foreign exchange, activity in stocks as we approach time when rate declines is looked for, around latter part of month.—Clark.

GRAIN GOSSIP

Bartlett, Frazier & Co. say:

Map shows generally clear with seasonable temperatures. Rain in Texas, but may also clear up, if it will take new outside buying to advance prices and hold them.

Corn—Weather most favorable for planting and early growth. Temperatures are seasonable, seems to sail on a fairly good scale, while the cash buying demand is moderate.

Oats—We see nothing on which to advise purchases.

Provisions—Cash demand better and packers favor buying side on declines.

B. W. Snow wires from Marshall, Mo.: The rains have been general, but May and June counties are badly infected with fly. This section contains 75,000 acres and loss runs from 50 to entire crop. East of Chariton county as far as Moniteau, fly is not bad. Loss apparently not serious. The district of severe loss is confined to the north side of the river, but there may be enough in all river counties to reduce the crop 250,000 bushels.

Snow wires from Louisiana, Mo.: "Very best of rains, beneficial to both Pike county, Mo. Early sown fields in bottom lands entirely destroyed. In case of fly fields damage fully one-fourth. Cannot now get fifty per cent of early promise in whole county."

Crop, fly and bug reports for a short. Look to see market work higher and drag most of the buying power in.—Campau.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat has following from Columbia, Mo.: "Reports of damage to wheat in central Missouri. Prospects for wheat are seriously damaged."

COARSE GRAINS LED THE DECLINE IN CHICAGO PIT

Corn Closed 1-2 to 1c Down, Wheat and Pork Steady, Oats and Provisions Off

(By Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, May 18.—Wheat today showed strength on account of unfavorable weather and Asian fly damage to crops. Nebraska and lows sent reports of rain, as did Kansas, Missouri and Illinois. Profit-taking on the part of bulls, however, caused a reaction. The market closed a shade off to ¼ up, with the bulls further keen, but then less virtually all of the advance.

Corn moved narrowly under the influence of rain and predictions that before the week was at an end general showers would be available in most of the territory from Ohio to Oklahoma. Closed unsettled, ½ to ¾c higher compared with Saturday night.

Dry weather and firm cables gave a lift to oats. Buying power though soon was exhausted. Prices started a fraction down to ¼ up, but gave and after a little additional rise, fell back to about Saturday night's level.

The corn market later broke sharply on account of increased offerings here to arrive. Cash demand was dull. Receipts were small. Oats were governed by the action of wheat and corn.

Provisions responded to an upturn in the hog market. Packers were credited with having packed, did not assume a burdensome volume.

INJUNCTION WITHDRAWN IN GEORGIA POWER SUIT

Main Issues of $30,000,000 Bond Affair to Be Discussed Before Jury

By the withdrawal of the plaintiff's application for an injunction, the civil court suit to declare the $30,000,000 bond issue by the Georgia Railway and Power company void was left suspended Monday morning to await trial on the main issues before a jury.

After the withdrawal of the application for an injunction, Mr. Atkinson and Mr. Arkwright said:

"This petition is a tissue of misrepresentations and we went to court this morning to show them up, but plaintiff dismissed his application for injunction and prevented this. We are ready at all times to meet these charges and show them as false."

E. G. Stevenson, who came from Detroit to attendthis trial, said: "The bonds were paid for in cash at the price fixed by the railroad commission and every dollar, and some $1,400,000 more have been spent on the property."

Counsel for the defense objected when Attorney Robert C. Alston, for the plaintiff, asked permission to withdraw his application for injunction. The defense attorneys said they were ready on that point and wanted to go to trial. Mr. Alston insisted he had a right to withdraw the application, and the court, Judge John T. Pendleton, held with him.

After the withdrawal of the application for special order, the attorneys for the defendant power company refused to file their answer, saying it would be filed later, that it had been drawn hurriedly and would be amended before filing.

E. G. Stevenson, a capitalist interested in the bond issue, and H. M. Atkinson and P. S. Arkwright, officers of the power company, were subpenaed to appear before a commissioner and give testimony in the case. In refusing last Thursday to issue a temporary restraining order, when he set the case for further hearing Monday, Judge Pendleton said the plaintiffs did not show specifically which funds they claimed to have been used illegally and he did not know, therefore, which bonds to restrain.

After the testimony of the witnesses subpenaed before the commissioner has been taken if the attorneys for the plaintiff are able to designate the bonds alleged to have been used wrongfully, they can come back into court and ask again for a temporary restraining order. King & Spalding, Charles T. Hopkins and Luther Z. Rosser appeared as attorneys for the power company.

"I think it not amiss to say here that the people of this community have been wrought up and their indignation excited by a detective alleged to be a famous sleuth. I doubt the wisdom of allowing detectives from another state, whether they be noted, famous, or infamous, to come here and criticize our officers and our courts. We have no room here for such men—men who come posing as seeking the truth when they are only seeking notoriety and money. We don't want them. I think it wise for those who have the right to issue licenses, to inquire into this matter and refuse such people the right to do business here. These men do not detect crime. Rather they encourage crime. They are a menace to the pace of the state and an obstruction to the administration of justice.

"Never in the history of the state has there been a case which more deserved the consideration of a grand jury than the one. I have brought to your attention. I give you this in charge."

MEMBERS OF JURY.

The members of the grand jury empaneled on Monday are: St. Elmo Massengale, Henry Lewis, H. K. Taylor, R. J. Rice, G. S. Pryor, B. F. Bardeen, George I. Walker, Charles B. Walker, L. M. Watkins, George Winship, Jr., J. J. Haverty, B. L. Willingham, J. C. Hudson, W. E. Adamson, J. M. McGee, James Bell, E. Rivers, R. A. Sims, Floyd C. Parks and W. H. Addins.

Immediately after i twas charged the grand jury adjourned to meet again Wednesday.

While no definite statement can be obtained from Assistant Solicitor E. A. Stephens, who will draw the bills against the figures in the Frank case, it is generally believed that the jury will commence its probe on Wednesday.

Motion to Set Aside Verdict Is Postponed

The motion to set aside the verdict against Leo M. Frank because he was not in court when the jury returned its at his trial for the murder of Mary Phagan, will not be heard Wednesday. Instead, it will be heard Saturday morning, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Judge Hill announced the postponement Monday morning, stating that both sides had requested it.

Tuesday Judge Hill will take up the contempt proceedings drawn against Detective W. J. Burns, and will continue with them until they are finished—provided, of course, the attorneys are ready when the case is called.

longer is the Tampico flag incident or the numerous affronts to the dignity of the United States but the broad question of setting the troubled republic's ills.

Along that line it is said Funston's troops never will be withdrawn from Vera Cruz until a firm government is established or assured in Mexico City.

Speculation was resumed as to the ultimate attitude of Carranza toward mediation. Observers who were said to have the confidence of Emilio Barbasa, head of the Huerta mission, stated the federals probably would obect to naming as Huerta's successor any man on the way to power "by arbitrary force," as described in President Wilson's Latin-American address. That would eliminate the two constitutionalist leaders, Carranza and Villa, although there are men in the northern faction who would not be unacceptable, it is said.

On the other hand, the constitutionalists have asserted they would yield to no compromise and would consent only to occupation of Mexico City through a military campaign and the establishment of their own civil government. Out of that situation, some of the mediation commissioners have told their friends, would arise the question of whether the United States would recognize a government so established.

VILLA PRESSES CAMPAIGN.

As the mediation negotiations proceed and the constitutionalists' campaign develops, the problem will crystallize, observers here believe.

The campaign against Saltillo will be pressed this week by Villa, reports from Ilfodetto indicate. The vanguard of the Carranza army was reported to have driven in some of the federal outposts north of Saltillo, while the plans for the assault on San Luis Potosi were developing. On the east coast a column of constitutionalists was said to be preparing for a march inland to strike at Necaxa with the aim of gaining control of the capital's light and power houses. Another detachment, it was believed, would proceed to Tierra Blanca, a division point on the Vera Cruz and Isthmus railroad. If that were taken from the federals, Huerta's last line of communication with the east coast would be broken.

ing a full test of the church's rights to the university. He said the courts had not passed on the charter rights of the patronizing conferences and the majority report is intended to give those conferences the opportunity of testing their rights in the federal courts. He read the proposed supplementary legislation to correct the majority report, to provide for the continuance of relations for the interim between adjournment of the general body and the completion of the reconveying of Vanderbilt to the patronizing conferences.

This amendment gives the board of education the authority to confirm or reject trustees and calls on the commission to safeguard the interests of the church.

The question of laity rights for women was made the special order of the business for 1:30 o'clock tomorrow.

A report from the committee on education was presented and adopted indorsing the work of the general board for the quadrennium and ratifying the plan of creating an endowment fund. The report suggested that $500,000 be raised for this purpose in the next four years.

stock, and this number is expected to be tripled as soon as the bank is chartered. Those who have applied first will be given their certificates of stock first. State and national banks and trust companies are eligible to subscribe stock in the regional bank. Each bank is required to subscribe 6 per cent of its total capital and reserve fund.

As soon as the five directors are appointed at Washington, which should be within the next three days, steps will be taken to elect the other six directors.

This election is accomplished as follows:

Each bank holding stock in the regional bank will appoint one elector; each bank nominates two men for directors; each elector then votes on the nominees, giving first second and third choice. The six men getting the most votes by this system will be the six directors.

President A. M. Baldwin, of the First National bank, of Montgomery, was elected chairman of the meeting, and J. P. Hoskins, cashier of the First National bank, of Chattanoga, was chosen secretary.

Meetings Being Held In Eleven Reserve Cities

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Representatives of five banks assembled here today to take the formal action necessary to call into being the federal reserve bank of this district. Two banks in this city and three upstate institutions were designated to execute the certificate of incorporation, which was to be done at a meeting of the New York Clearing House later in the day.

With the signing of the certificate the bank is technically organized and the member banks may proceed with the election of directors.

In all of the twelve reserve districts of the country, except San Francisco, meetings are being held today to execute certificates. In San Francisco this action will be taken Wednesday.

ROME CITY ORDINANCE MAY BAR POOL ROOMS

ROME, Ga., May 18.—It is probable that pool rooms will be entirely prohibited from operating in the city of Rome. An ordinance to that effect is pending before city council.

Under the present regulation, no pool room license can be issued until written permission is had of the property owners on either side, and a majority of both the finance committee and the city council approve the application. The applications of four pool room proprietors have been declined, and only one has been granted during the current fiscal year.

Pickpocket Gets $50

Some professional pickpocket is believed by the police to have relieved J. J. Neece, of Oakland City, of $50 in cash Saturday afternoon.

Neece reported to the barracks Sunday morning that he started on a car for Oakland City Saturday afternoon with that sum of money in his pocket; when he arrived at his destination, the money was gone.

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL VISIT GEORGIA IN FALL

Hoke Smith, Schley Howard and Edwards Invite Him to This State

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—Senator Hoke Smith and Representatives Edwards and Howard, of Georgia, called on President Wilson today and invited him to attend the unveiling of a monument to General James Screven and General Daniel Stewart, revolutionary heros who were born at Midway, Ga. The president assured the delegation that he would endeavor to attend the unveiling if they would arrange a date some time in October.

Mrs. Wilson's grandfather was pastor of the Presbyterian church at Midway, Liberty county, for many years. The date will be arranged to suit the president's convenience.

President Will Be Invited to Atlanta

Mell Wilkinson, president of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, said that an effort will be made to get President Wilson to make a visit to Atlanta while he is in the state.

"We certainly should not like for the president to come to this state and not visit Atlanta," said Mr. Wilkinson, "and the chamber of commerce will take the matter up with him and try to arrange for at least a brief stay in the city."

Tax Revision

GRIFFIN, Ga., May 18.—The board of tax equalizers of Spalding county are revising the tax returns as rapidly as possible, and it is believed the increase this year will be remarkable —somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. The board is composed of R. J. Redding, N. G. Barfield and T. J. Biles.

A WORD WITH WOMEN
Valuable Advice for Atlanta Readers
Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily torment of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.
It is not true that ever pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.
You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment; the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.
Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Atlanta woman's convincing statement:
Mrs. Harry B. Jordan, 98 West Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills with the best of results and have no hesitation in recommending them. The secretions from my kidneys were disordered and my back was weak. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Jacobs' Pharmacy and took enough to cure me. The cure has lasted and I have since told several of my friends about my experience."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jordan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
